Women's issues top Democratic debate

(Continued from page 1) Such centers lead to 'stunted minds as well as bodies in this country.'

The Rev. Jesse L. Jackson said the issue of abortion "is one of the grave questions of our day. We would urge states to teach sexual education, and said a woman must have the power of the choice for her body, and the responsibility for that choice."

Sen. John H. Glenn Jr., of Ohio said American women "are as much in the mainstream of American politics" as men. "It's a waste not to use this 53 percent ... of the American brainpower."

Former South Dakota Sen. George McGovern attacked his opponents of the need for attention to women who do not work. "Homemakers work just as hard as any of the rest of us," he said.

Gary W. Hart, a senator from Colorado, said women should not be treated as a special interest group. "I have not actively courted the women's vote as a constituency," he said. His rise for president, he said, is based instead on a generation gap.

"The nation owes a great debt of gratitude to Rev. Jackson," he said. "We would urge states to teach sexual education, and a woman must have the power of the choice for her body, and the responsibility for that choice."

Si, said the principle county of the ERA "is not here tonight. He is in or near the White House."

Jackson urged equal representation of women, saying "it's not enough to give programs." An additional 12 or 20 women in Congress would force out "boll-weevils" and improve women's rights, he said.

Mondale said that to achieve women's rights a Democrat must appoint new justices to the Supreme Court. "Don't let Reagan get his hands on that court,"

McGovern agreed with Mondale's assessment, saying the appointment of three or four anti-ERA justices could end women's rights for years.

Former South Dakota Sen. George McGovern attacked his opponents of the need for attention to women who do not work. "Homemakers work just as hard as any of the rest of us," he said.

Gary W. Hart, a senator from Colorado, said women should not be treated as a special interest group. "I have not actively courted the women's vote as a constituency," he said. His rise for president, he said, is based instead on a generation gap.

"The nation owes a great debt of gratitude to Rev. Jackson," he said. "We would urge states to teach sexual education, and a woman must have the power of the choice for her body, and the responsibility for that choice."

Si, said the principle county of the ERA "is not here tonight. He is in or near the White House."

Jackson urged equal representation of women, saying "it's not enough to give programs." An additional 12 or 20 women in Congress would force out "boll-weevils" and improve women's rights, he said.

Mondale said that to achieve women's rights a Democrat must appoint new justices to the Supreme Court. "Don't let Reagan get his hands on that court,"

McGovern agreed with Mondale's assessment, saying the appointment of three or four anti-ERA justices could end women's rights for years.

The candidates also debated the candidates opposed Reagan's handling of women's issues and repeated their support for the Equal Rights Amendment.

Hart said the principle county of the ERA "is not here tonight. He is in or near the White House."

Jackson urged equal representation of women, saying "it's not enough to give programs." An additional 12 or 20 women in Congress would force out "boll-weevils" and improve women's rights, he said.

Mondale said that to achieve women's rights a Democrat must appoint new justices to the Supreme Court. "Don't let Reagan get his hands on that court,"

McGovern agreed with Mondale's assessment, saying the appointment of three or four anti-ERA justices could end women's rights for years.

Women's issues top Democratic debate

The Rev. Jesse L. Jackson said the issue of abortion "is one of the grave questions of our day. We would urge states to teach sexual education, and said a woman must have the power of the choice for her body, and the responsibility for that choice."

Sen. John H. Glenn Jr., of Ohio said American women "are as much in the mainstream of American politics" as men. "It's a waste not to use this 53 percent ... of the American brainpower."

Former South Dakota Sen. George McGovern attacked his opponents of the need for attention to women who do not work. "Homemakers work just as hard as any of the rest of us," he said.

Gary W. Hart, a senator from Colorado, said women should not be treated as a special interest group. "I have not actively courted the women's vote as a constituency," he said. His rise for president, he said, is based instead on a generation gap.

"The nation owes a great debt of gratitude to Rev. Jackson," he said. "We would urge states to teach sexual education, and a woman must have the power of the choice for her body, and the responsibility for that choice."

Si, said the principle county of the ERA "is not here tonight. He is in or near the White House."

Jackson urged equal representation of women, saying "it's not enough to give programs." An additional 12 or 20 women in Congress would force out "boll-weevils" and improve women's rights, he said.

Mondale said that to achieve women's rights a Democrat must appoint new justices to the Supreme Court. "Don't let Reagan get his hands on that court,"

McGovern agreed with Mondale's assessment, saying the appointment of three or four anti-ERA justices could end women's rights for years.

BRAKE SPECIAL

$69.00

BRAKE KINGS

808 Memorial Drive

Cambridge, Mass.

Across the river from Coke sign

884-1111

Includes new front brake pads, new grease seals, wheel bearings repacked, front rotors resurfaced, master cylinder and hydraulic system checked. Also check rear brakes and road test car. For imported and U.S. cars with conventional rear-wheel drive. Prices will vary for front-wheel drive, depending on vehicle model.

SCHOLORS

SAVE DOLLARS

Take To The Road Of Success With Avis!

Now Serving The College Community

- Renters Must Be 18 Years Old With Personal Charge Card And Current College ID, or ... ...
- Renters Must Be 19 Years Old Paying In Cash With Valid College ID
- Car Must Be Returned To Renting Location

Guaranteed Rates with Unlimited Mileage

To Reserve A Car Call NOW!

Special Student & Faculty Rates

Only Available At Our

110 Mt. Auburn St.

Cambridge Office

For Reservations Or Information In Massachusetts

481-3500

©1983 Avis Rent-A-Car, Inc. Avis®