I the uneven parallel bars, defeat places to Smith. 7.70, brought second and third 7.75, and Susan Howard, scoring score of 8.25. Gordon, scoring 36.9, despite Maxfield's high the meet, by a score of 37.5 to third in the overall competition. A key to Tuesday's victory was Missy Maxfield '85: She took first place in each of the four events and assumed control of the meet. Maxfield's 7.6 was too much for Howard, who took second with a 5.7. Virginia Chang '85 tied Gordon for third place with a 5.2. MIT mounted the balance beam and assumed control of the meet. Maxfield scored 7.6 and Vance 6.75 to take first and second places, respectively. Smith's Marcello Marcu scored 6.3 for third place, but the Engineers' team total of 38.6 topped Smith's 26.7. Leading by 6.5 points, MIT had just to match Smith in the floor competition to take the meet. The Engineers went a step further as Maxfield's first place and Vance's second pushed MIT to a 28.7 to 26.15 victory in the event. Laatch was pleased with her squad's victory. "The girls gave a tremendous effort," she said. "Practice and hard work paid off." The team scored eight points higher than it had in its last match, she noted. The gymnasts' next home meet is Saturday against Albany State. The meet will start at 2 p.m. in duPost.
