Libby, Scheidler blame UA problems on communication

By Thomas T. Huang

The inefficiency of undergraduate student government stems from structural problems, according to MIT Libby.

She said the newly-installed UA Council and the proposed Joint Council should improve communication between student leaders.

The UA Council has less member representation of the Student Assembly, the Council has 53 members, compared to the As-ssembly's 110 representatives. Libby said members will "get to know each other more on a personal basis. It'll be easier to sit down and talk to people."

Stephanie L. Scheidler '85, UA president, said student union of-ers will be members of the UA Council. They would have representative power on the General Assembly.

The General Assembly's problem was that it faced little control from decisions made in meeting to meet, because only 15 members at a time were constitently members, regularly, Libby said, with others attending infre-frequently.

"This will be less libby" with the Joint Council, she said, not-only, we won't have to rehash the same issues again and again."

Scheidler said approval of the UA Council did not change the status of the General Committe: the Finance Board, the Nominations Committee and the Student Committee on Education Policy, the Social Council, the Student Information Processing Board, and the Association of Student Activities.

The General Assembly was not the Student Council, said Schaefer.

The MFA plans open house for college students

By Ellen L. Sperry

The Boston Museum of Fine Art will hold an open house to mark the opening of the new galleries, part of the new campus party shown in the opening, the new campus party shown in the opening, the new campus party shown in the opening.

The museum was named in Wiesner's honor.

"We don't lack for fat-

ting of student affairs, a mem-
made the discussing more substantial is- kind of contact."

A specific structure for the Joint Committee between the UA Council and the Graduate Student Council has been determined, Scheidler said.

The GSC has not yet endorsed the change for the Joint Committee.

"If we can't get a

aid. "Student

"I have p

"We would try to avoid a conflict with any group. However, the UA Constitution is clear that the UA Council is the highest authority in student government, he added.

A specific structure for the Joint Committee between the UA Council and the Graduate Student Council has been determined, Scheidler said.

The GSC has not yet endorsed the change for the Joint Commit-
tee.

"If we can't get a

A specific structure for the Joint Committee between the UA Council and the Graduate Student Council has been determined, Scheidler said.

The GSC has not yet endorsed the change for the Joint Commit-
tee.

"If we can't get a

A specific structure for the Joint Committee between the UA Council and the Graduate Student Council has been determined, Scheidler said.

The GSC has not yet endorsed the change for the Joint Commit-
tee.

"If we can't get a

A specific structure for the Joint Committee between the UA Council and the Graduate Student Council has been determined, Scheidler said.

The GSC has not yet endorsed the change for the Joint Commit-
tee.

"If we can't get a

A specific structure for the Joint Committee between the UA Council and the Graduate Student Council has been determined, Scheidler said.

The GSC has not yet endorsed the change for the Joint Commit-
tee.

"If we can't get a

A specific structure for the Joint Committee between the UA Council and the Graduate Student Council has been determined, Scheidler said.

The GSC has not yet endorsed the change for the Joint Committee.

"If we can't get a