made in conjunction with the other developments in Kendall Square: Benson Properties, a speculative development group based in Boston, is the developer for the 13-acre triangle.

The first office building built under this project was completed in 1980. Included in the development plans are a number of other office buildings and 300 to 350 rooms located.

The MIT-affiliated Whitehead Institute building for biomedical research is one of the buildings that is being built under this plan.

THE SHORTEST DISTANCE BETWEEN YOUR ENGINEERING DEGREE AND MANAGEMENT COULD BE O.C.S.

If O.C.S. (Army Officer Candidate School) looks tangential at first, look again. Look at it from management’s point of view. Management wants engineering skill plus leadership ability in the people it moves up the ladder.

O.C.S. is a great place to get started on leadership. It is a 14-week challenge to your mental and physical toughness. And if you pass the tests, you will come out strong, sure and in great shape—a commissioned officer in the Army, ready to exercise the leadership that civilian companies put such a premium on.

If you are about to get your degree in engineering, the O.C.S. challenge could be your best next step.

To find out more about O.C.S., call the Commanding Officer in your area:

ARMY, BE ALL YOU CAN BE.
