Over 100 freshmen to crowd this fall

By Michael Battat

Over 100 and 140 freshmen will live in crowded rooms, according to Kathleen F. Masek, Staff Assistant for Residence Programs. She attributed the larger crowd estimate to the high number of returning upperclassmen, as well as to the larger size of the Class of 1988.

"We were hoping for 100 or so [crowd]. The optimal [number] would be 100," a figure which house presidents within a meeting last spring, Haskell said. The deciding factor is the number of crowding figures after tracking down all possible leads on nonreturning students, she said.

Haskell asked for returning students to contact her if they have information regarding fur-

The residence office arrived at the

"The present figure is 1069,

freshmen who pledge fraternities, have not moved during polygons.

"It will help all open spaces." It will help all

The optimal [number]

"This number is typi-

Adopt criteria for those sexually

Everyone is guaranteed a spot

They are in Limbo advertise an alternative and con-

the freshmen-to know

room selection proced-

That even though they

The clearinghouse program that keeps track of the freshmen during R/O.

Over 100 freshmen to crowd this fall

By Michael Battat

Between 130 and 140 freshmen will live in crowded rooms, according to Kathleen F. Masek, Staff Assistant for Residence Programs. She attributed the larger crowd estimate to the high number of returning upperclassmen, as well as to the larger size of the Class of 1988.

"We were hoping for 100 or so [crowd]. The optimal [number] would be 100," a figure which house presidents within a meeting last spring, Haskell said. The deciding factor is the number of crowding figures after tracking down all possible leads on nonreturning students, she said.

Haskell asked for returning students to contact her if they have information regarding fur-

The residence office arrived at the

"The present figure is 1069,

freshmen who pledge fraternities, have not moved during polygons.

"It will help all open spaces." It will help all

The optimal [number]

"This number is typi-

Adopt criteria for those sexually

Everyone is guaranteed a spot

They are in Limbo advertise an alternative and con-

the freshmen-to know

room selection proced-

That even though they

The clearinghouse program that keeps track of the freshmen during R/O.