The Tech, October 13, 1984

Opinion

Column/Charles P. Brown

CAP names the SB candidates

Currently, or at least when I wrote this column, undergraduates have the right to elect three senators to represent them. The Committee on Academic Publications is now taking nominations for the standing-Senate candidate to the faculty for the September, February, and June degree dates.

The CAP votes on candidates for the September degree list in the middle of September, on the February degree list late in January, and on the June degree list at the end-of-term meetings for the spring semester. The committee will listen to the recommendation of the appropriate department for each student, and then will make its decision. The role of the CAP, rather than individual departments, recommends candidates, and in November, the members of the committee have completed all their requirements, both Institute and departmental.

The committee takes this responsibility seriously, and nor-their requirements, both Institute and departmental.

ommendation of the appropriate committee will listen to the rec-ary, and on the June degree list at late in January, and alternate Tuesmarches the CAP, rather than individual departments, reand humanities requirement (even the swim test), ready had seven "U's" in his de-

...