Independent Activities Period will celebrate its fifteenth anniversary

By Brian E. Simmons

The Independent Activities Period is renewing the status of IAP and will send a spate of College on Educational Policy (CEP) a final report next spring, according Professor Shaul Erez, chairmain of the Policy Committee. The committee is preparing a preliminary report for the CEP in November; the report will include some of the re-tinderings of the IAP questionnaire distributed during 1983 and

The MIT community should have been given the chance to vote on an IAP period of work because of the con-
