Forbidden Broadway, a 1/2 hour musical revue, will run through early spring at the Dinosaur Space, 10 West 23rd St., between 6th and 7th avenu., New York. The show, which is set in a New York coffee shop, is noted for its blend of British humor and anti-establishment satire. Each two-minute satire, these little gags do not become suspiciously played out and cliché, says producer Frank Rodda, because they are written by the performers themselves. The show is well worth the price of admission, which is $5-$8.

The Deadlined, a four-person spoof play, is presented hand-in-hand with the well-done program-and a ménage of the same, The Boston Park Plaza Hotel. Contains light, private, and sordid lewdity. Rated TG. For those of you who have, up to now, been unhappy under Somosa, but are now free, Perrigo, a 16-year-old Sandanista, says that the people are happy and stay with a Sandanistan family in Managua. The play recreates a series of incidents and adventures, which happen to him when he is in the country. He leaves one a quadriplegic for the rest of eternity.

Forbidden Broadway, a live comedy revue, is presented at the Dinosaur Space, 10 West 23rd St., between 6th and 7th avenu., New York. The show, which is set in a New York coffee shop, is noted for its blend of British humor and anti-establishment satire. Each two-minute satire, these little gags do not become suspiciously played out and cliché, says producer Frank Rodda, because they are written by the performers themselves. The show is well worth the price of admission, which is $5-$8.

The Deadlined, a four-person spoof play, is presented hand-in-hand with the well-done program-and a ménage of the same, The Boston Park Plaza Hotel. Contains light, private, and sordid lewdity. Rated TG. For those of you who have, up to now, been unhappy under Somosa, but are now free, Perrigo, a 16-year-old Sandanista, says that the people are happy and stay with a Sandanistan family in Managua. The play recreates a series of incidents and adventures, which happen to him when he is in the country. He leaves one a quadriplegic for the rest of eternity.