Brazil elects civilian president — Tancredo de Almeida Naves was elected president of Brazil last Tuesday, ending 21 years of military dictatorship. Never defeated the government party's candidates, Paulo Maluf, by receiving almost 70 percent of Brazil's Electoral College votes. "I come in the name of conciliation," he said. "This will be the last indirect election in the country." Naves takes office March 15.

The logic on the inauguration — President Ronald Wilson Reagan took second term oath of office in a private ceremony at the White House Monday. Reagan cancelled the outdoor public inauguration ceremonies scheduled for Monday because of near-zero temperatures and a sub-zero windchill factor in the Capital City. In his inaugural address, the President said the nation had reached "a turning point" and was "poised for greatness" during his second term in the White House.

Justices grant search power to school officials — The Supreme Court ruled by a 6-3 vote last Tuesday that school officials have the right to search students and their belongings. The ruling states that school officials are not required to demonstrate "probable cause" if there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that a search will turn up evidence that a student has violated or is violating either the law or the rules of the school. Justice Byron R. White, writing for the majority, said drug use and violent crime in US schools as factors in the decision. The Court also concluded that while students' privacy is entitled to some Fourth Amendment protection, rights sometimes must yield to "the school's equally legitimate need to maintain an environment in which learning can take place."

Airline accident kills 69 in Reno, Nevada — A Lockheed Electra four-engine aircraft, owned by Galaxy Airlines, crashed and burned shortly after departing from Cannon International Airport early Monday morning. The pilot of the aircraft radioed the airport that the plane was experiencing severe vibration and was returning in the airport. The plane was unable to return to the airport but crashed through a recreational vehicle sales lot located south of Reno. Officials estimated that 69 passengers died while three survived. No one on the ground was injured.

Harvard to repay $4.6 million to federal government — Harvard University agreed that it owed $10 million in indirect overhead costs to the US from 1974 to 1981 and the government conceded that it owed Harvard $5.4 million for research conducted during the same period. The university will pay the difference, $4.6 million, to the government over the next three years. Negotiations over possible repayments for 1982 and 1983 are still going on.

Weather

The big chill — Pleasing temperatures and rising winds swept over the nation in the last few days, setting record cold temperatures throughout the Gulf States, the Upper Midwest and New England. At least forty people have died since the weather system, dubbed "the Alberta Clipper," breezed half of the nation early this week.

Sending the Arctic weather back up north — Gusting winds sweeping out of the Arctic and Canada will maintain daytime highs at 30-34 degrees today and tomorrow, but temperatures will moderate as the weekend approaches and the gentle Arctic breeze subsides.

FEBRUARY MEANS FOR MOVIEGOERS

Doug McKeon is burning up—he's getting dangerously close to college, without hitting a "home run" with any girl, much less Kelly Preston, the cutest one in the class. Let's face it—it's the 1950's, and Doug would settle for a "single". That is, until big city buddy (and screen newcomer) Chris Nash arrives at school and bets that he can help Doug hit a grand slam.

A winning cast

The cast of "Mischief" is particularly hip. Doug McKeon is best known as the "tuck face" kid in "On Golden Pond": Kelly Preston, soon to be seen in the upcoming "Secret Admirer," played the luscious damsel in distress in "Metal Magic."

"Mischief"

Buy a ticket on a last minute basis. Starring: Catherine Mary Stewart, who plays Chris Nash's girlfriend, was a smash hit at the lead in both "Night of the Comet" and "The Last Starfighter.

Major league mischief

Together, Doug, Kelly, Chris and Catherine sit up more rarely "mischief" than Little Nelsonville, Ohio can take in one year. We're talking major league tomfoolery here: motorcycles on sidewalks, cars on fire hydrants, parents on the warpath, romance on the fly. In short, all the things that make life worth living before college.

The cars may have changed, but the action in the back seat has not!
