Porn committee is gaining credibility

The absence of Dean for Student Affairs Shirley M. McBay's from the recent meeting of the ad hoc Pornography Committee and the resignation at that meeting of McBay-designated chairman Susan Niti Seth serve as first steps toward improving the committee's credibility. Seth, who was not a member of the committee, overstressed her authority by appointing Seth and so demonstrated a lack of respect for Seth to demonstrate her competence in the role of chairman.

Seth stepped down from her position, saying she felt that the chairman "ought not be an appointment from the outside." Her resignation is selfless and commendable.

McBay must refrain from interfering with the committee and should divest it from the Dean's Office. The Office of the Provost is the proper supervisor organ for the allocation of facilities.

When Secretary of State George P. Shultz PhD '49 and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met last week in Geneva, the result was success, but not quite the success it could have been. We did not get all the orders or the work done, and we did not even clean the glasses on the table." Gromyko said of the discussions.

Billed as "talks about arms control" by the Reagan administration, the three-part negotiations dealt separately with strategic offensive weapons, medium-range missiles, and space weapons. The space weapons negotiations, which dealt largely with the United States' proposed Strategic Defense Initiative, dubbed "Star Wars," are the most controversial.

The Star Wars plan is to develop a defensive shield against non-warhead weapons, consuming an estimated $26 billion will be needed for Student Affairs Shirley M. McBay's from the recent meeting of the ad hoc Pornography Committee and the resignation at that meeting of McBay-designated chairman Susan Niti Seth serve as first steps toward improving the committee's credibility. Seth, who was not a member of the committee, overstressed her authority by appointing Seth and so demonstrated a lack of respect for Seth to demonstrate her competence in the role of chairman.

Seth stepped down from her position, saying she felt that the chairman "ought not be an appointment from the outside." Her resignation is selfless and commendable.

McBay must refrain from interfering with the committee and should divest it from the Dean's Office. The Office of the Provost is the proper supervisor organ for the allocation of facilities.

When Secretary of State George P. Shultz PhD '49 and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met last week in Geneva, the result was success, but not quite the success it could have been. We did not get all the orders or the work done, and we did not even clean the glasses on the table." Gromyko said of the discussions.

Billed as "talks about arms control" by the Reagan administration, the three-part negotiations dealt separately with strategic offensive weapons, medium-range missiles, and space weapons. The space weapons negotiations, which dealt largely with the United States' proposed Strategic Defense Initiative, dubbed "Star Wars," are the most controversial.

The Star Wars plan is to develop a defensive shield against non-warhead weapons, consuming an estimated $26 billion will be needed for Student Affairs Shirley M. McBay's from the recent meeting of the ad hoc Pornography Committee and the resignation at that meeting of McBay-designated chairman Susan Niti Seth serve as first steps toward improving the committee's credibility. Seth, who was not a member of the committee, overstressed her authority by appointing Seth and so demonstrated a lack of respect for Seth to demonstrate her competence in the role of chairman.

Seth stepped down from her position, saying she felt that the chairman "ought not be an appointment from the outside." Her resignation is selfless and commendable.

McBay must refrain from interfering with the committee and should divest it from the Dean's Office. The Office of the Provost is the proper supervisor organ for the allocation of facilities.

When Secretary of State George P. Shultz PhD '49 and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met last week in Geneva, the result was success, but not quite the success it could have been. We did not get all the orders or the work done, and we did not even clean the glasses on the table." Gromyko said of the discussions.

Billed as "talks about arms control" by the Reagan administration, the three-part negotiations dealt separately with strategic offensive weapons, medium-range missiles, and space weapons. The space weapons negotiations, which dealt largely with the United States' proposed Strategic Defense Initiative, dubbed "Star Wars," are the most controversial.

The Star Wars plan is to develop a defensive shield against non-warhead weapons, consuming an estimated $26 billion will be needed for Student Affairs Shirley M. McBay's from the recent meeting of the ad hoc Pornography Committee and the resignation at that meeting of McBay-designated chairman Susan Niti Seth serve as first steps toward improving the committee's credibility. Seth, who was not a member of the committee, overstressed her authority by appointing Seth and so demonstrated a lack of respect for Seth to demonstrate her competence in the role of chairman.

Seth stepped down from her position, saying she felt that the chairman "ought not be an appointment from the outside." Her resignation is selfless and commendable.

McBay must refrain from interfering with the committee and should divest it from the Dean's Office. The Office of the Provost is the proper supervisor organ for the allocation of facilities.

When Secretary of State George P. Shultz PhD '49 and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met last week in Geneva, the result was success, but not quite the success it could have been. We did not get all the orders or the work done, and we did not even clean the glasses on the table." Gromyko said of the discussions.

Billed as "talks about arms control" by the Reagan administration, the three-part negotiations dealt separately with strategic offensive weapons, medium-range missiles, and space weapons. The space weapons negotiations, which dealt largely with the United States' proposed Strategic Defense Initiative, dubbed "Star Wars," are the most controversial.

The Star Wars plan is to develop a defensive shield against non-warhead weapons, consuming an estimated $26 billion will be needed for Student Affairs Shirley M. McBay's from the recent meeting of the ad hoc Pornography Committee and the resignation at that meeting of McBay-designated chairman Susan Niti Seth serve as first steps toward improving the committee's credibility. Seth, who was not a member of the committee, overstressed her authority by appointing Seth and so demonstrated a lack of respect for Seth to demonstrate her competence in the role of chairman.

Seth stepped down from her position, saying she felt that the chairman "ought not be an appointment from the outside." Her resignation is selfless and commendable.

McBay must refrain from interfering with the committee and should divest it from the Dean's Office. The Office of the Provost is the proper supervisor organ for the allocation of facilities.