Black Flag has been one of the most controversial bands of the last decade. Their extreme lyrics and unrestrained use of aggressive sound have challenged parental values beyond the widespread acceptance. Their extreme lyrics and unrestrained use of aggressive sound have caused a storm of opposition from the parents of teenagers, who fear that the music they are hearing is having a negative effect on their children. But Black Flag has always stood by its beliefs, and has continued to release albums that are both challenging and thought-provoking.
