The question of humanity: liberty and decency

Guest Column/Jacqueline Gottlieb

Every individual is responsible for any death he could have caused.

We should entrench our democratic governments with more severe laws on pornography than the courts may impose to redistribute the money which would otherwise be paid to various wrongdoers. In that battle, the states would be foolish to lose.

We may therefore demand that such wrongdoers be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

We also demand that individuals be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

We further demand that individuals be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

We finally demand that individuals be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in a prison. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army. If he still opposes such service, he must be put to work in the army.

The measure money ing or not would be whether it would or would not be put to work for society's benefit. Such work could be done in factories, in schools, in prisons, and in the army. If anyone opposes such service, he must be put to work in a factory or in the army. If he still oppos...