Lobby against the arms race

Next Thursday, April 18, there will be 14 groups at Davis Square to End the Arms Race. Thousands of students from colleges and universities across the region will travel to Washington, DC, to meet with Congress representatives and encourage them to vote against destabilizing weapons systems.

A second related event in Washington will take place against the arms race and Third- World nuclear proliferation. A group of three thousand people are expected.

The MIT Disarmament Study Group is organizing Massachusetts' campaigns for the first event. It is planning transportation for both. Here is why you should join.

While I was home for Spring Break, I watched the House of Representatives debate and then vote on the MX missile. It was an insightful experience. I sharpened my realization that when it comes to the arms race, there are two different worlds.

The first world is like a game. In this world, politics is like the United States and the Soviet Union negotiate. The game pieces are missiles, warheads, and other weapons systems. The game rules include such terms as “first-strike capability,” “superiority,” “window of vulnerability,” and “flexible response options.”

The game score is measured with numbers and perceptions. Numbers are like megatons, or numbers of warheads. Perceptions are about the national resolve.

But this is the world we live in: the world of people. It is in this world that the bomb will explode. This is the world that will become extinct when the “game” ends — and it must, sooner or later, if things remain as they are.

The arms race continues to produce more weapons, of greater devastation, and at a higher rate of destructive power for more costs. These costs mean the triplewides on nuclear war grow more sensitive, and must ultimately, one of them will fail. All of this is fairly obvious to most of the people of this world. It explains why two-thirds of the people of this world (de-tective) eventually, one of them must trigger.

The question is not whether or not the world is at the end of the armament race. Eventually, one of them will trigger. This is the world that will explode. This is the world that will become extinct.

If you do not think that we are in serious danger, you should join them.

We can at least be reasonably certain of that. Last year, after the women were invited for a weekend, more agreed to four years or there before. There is no reason not to count on the same agreement this year.

But the Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.

On Tuesday the prefreshwomen were asked to vote on the Student Center expansion. An executive office threatened to lose this week. The Administrations Office spent plenty of money on ice cream, pizza, parties, ladies, lunches, dinners and more. But it was no match to do with the real world. We can at least be reasonably certain of that.

The Administrations Office showed MIT in a somewhat unrealistic light. Some people may consider this an advantage. It is deceiving.