Track tops visiting WPI

By Arthur Lee

Greg Procopio '83 rocked back on his right foot. His balance was maintained. He made sure of it. He started to move around and the shot went off perfectly from his shoulder. It landed at a distance of 41-3/4. His next throw was not so good, however, but the WPI shot putter who had beaten Procopio after holding up a black sign, the victory was sweet for Procopio.

And for MIT.

The MIT Engineers squeaked past their WPI counterparts by a score of 8-7. At all came down to the last minutes of the afternoon: the 1,600-meter relay, Winner takes all. Simple. That is how Procopiocheered on his teammates. "It's a lucky thing I won the shot." The joke was in his eyes, but the statement took on serious overtones. It was indeed fortunate that every MIT competitor was what he was. Co-captain Pat Puris '85, Gordon Holterman '88, Bill Kelly '85, Bo Egan '88, and Louise Jandura G. was perfect from his shoulder. It lasted all the time, and the Engineers dominated both home and setting up runners on many MIT singles into doubles; the Engineers played without receiving further momentum.
