Desperately Seeking Susan, starring Madonna and Rosanna Arquette, directed by Susan Seidelman. Now showing at the New York Film Festival. The title role is filled by Madonna in her screen debut, being credited as being so great was because of Seidelman's ability to show the unpretentiousness of punk lifestyle. The movie derives its tension from the friction of the two cultures, yet half the characters are...