The Institute Colloquium Committee will hold a two-day Institute wide discussion of apartheid on Nov. 6 and 7, according to Professor of Mathematics Fran Morgan '74, chairman of the committee. South African activists Ntatho Motlana and Oliver Tambo will participate in the program.

Motlana will give the opening address in Kresge from 3:30-5 on Nov. 6, said Judy Douglass, executive officer in the Office of the Dean for Student Affairs, and chairman of the evening discussions subcommittee. He is the chairman of the Soweto Committee and the Soweto Civic Action Committee.

There will be a reception open to the MIT community following the opening address. The committee has tentatively planned to hold the reception in the Burton Dining Hall, Morgan added.

Several dormitories and three fraternities will host guests and faculty for coffee and donuts. The living groups will hold workshops afterwards, Douglass said.

Departmental subcommittees will hold activities such as Ashdown House, Green Hall, Next House, Senior House and McCormick Hall. Baker and Burton may also have activities, she said.

The committee's mailing list includes members of such diverse groups as the Inter-Fraternity Conference, Pugwash, the Literature Series Committee, the Graduate Student Council, the Undergraduate Association and the Dormitory Council, Morgan noted.

The community groups liaison subcommittee was "concerned with getting the ones that weren't so obvious," Douglass said.

The Institute Colloquium Committee is an ongoing committee affiliated with the Provost's office, Douglass said.
