Faculty not restricted under proposed policy

remove last year's committee guidelines. The new guidelines also call for openness and a positive view of sexuality in films. The guidelines do not state that the films should set an example for others, but do call for a positive example of how to treat others.

The screening committee had been using these guidelines, so the new statement is not a change, said Professor John Hill, former screening committee chairman.

Admission fee The statement explicitly states that an admission fee may be charged for unapproved films. Some of the members of the screening committee felt that an admissions fee should not be allowed for unapproved films.
