Vivienne Lee

This year marks my fourth year of service to our class — my third as president. I've grown a lot of myself to what I consider to be a worthwhile organization and I feel I have been reasonably successful in pulling together good programs and events for our class. I've organized events, pubs, picnics, study breaks, and parties (complete with CD player door prizes) and have had some remarkable breakthroughs. Of course, I've also learned a lot about how to improve and after each new election, I have tried to reflect on the previous year's activities to avoid repeating the same mistakes and to come up with new innovative ideas. Following that tradition, post-election activities, I intend to continue to organize regional social events to help our class members in touch with having helped make the future time and we hope to continue this past graduation. I've taken the responsibilities of my office seriously and I hope the results will meet your approval.

The leadership of our class is very important to me and I want to see the most qualified people in the positions of our permanent executives. I honestly believe I am the right person for the office of president and I hope you will give me your support and to prove to you that I am well qualified for the position.

Secretary

Mary E. Cox

In a few months, we'll have graduated and gone our separate ways. My hope is that most of us will finally admit to having reached the best years of our lives. As Secretary, I think that for most of us the high quality of our M.I.T. education will take pleasure in sharing the future ups and downs of information involving our class reunion. I will use my past experiences and surveys and I hope to continue this important position and to publish the class notes in Technology Review.

This is the chance for all of you to let everyone know what you're up to. gossip is my middle name and I'll be able to write about all those missed experiences that we know everyone is going to have. (Dear Mary, my cat just had seven kittens.) Also, as a member of the Air Force, I'll be doing a lot of traveling and will be able to keep you updated on any news. Keep your back on the run of your term and I hope you'll exercise your freedom of choice by casting a vote on election day.

Toll Ann Beveridge

Finally, graduation is upon us. Now, all we need to do is to find a job or a graduate school that will take us, all while finding time to complete our degree requirements. This is definitely a time of change. But, once we have all settled down, I am sure that most of us will think back on the exciting and in some cases, conceived and developed. This is definitely a time of change. But, once we have all settled down, I am sure that most of us will think back on the exciting and in some cases, conceived and developed. However, I have been given a lot of myself to what I consider to be a worthwhile organization and I feel I have been reasonably successful in pulling together good programs and events for our class. I've organized events, pubs, picnics, study breaks, and parties (complete with CD player door prizes) and have had some remarkable breakthroughs. Of course, I've also learned a lot about how to improve and after each new election, I have tried to reflect on the previous year's activities to avoid repeating the same mistakes and to come up with new innovative ideas. Following that tradition, post-election activities, I intend to continue to organize regional social events to help our class members in touch with having helped make the future time and we hope to continue this past graduation. I've taken the responsibilities of my office seriously and I hope the results will meet your approval.

The leadership of our class is very important to me and I want to see the most qualified people in the positions of our permanent executives. I honestly believe I am the right person for the office of president and I hope you will give me your support and to prove to you that I am well qualified for the position.

Secretary

Mary E. Cox

In a few months, we'll have graduated and gone our separate ways. My hope is that most of us will finally admit to having reached the best years of our lives. As Secretary, I think that for most of us the high quality of our M.I.T. education will take pleasure in sharing the future ups and downs of information involving our class reunion. I will use my past experiences and surveys and I hope to continue this important position and to publish the class notes in Technology Review.

This is the chance for all of you to let everyone know what you're up to. gossip is my middle name and I'll be able to write about all those missed experiences that we know everyone is going to have. (Dear Mary, my cat just had seven kittens.) Also, as a member of the Air Force, I'll be doing a lot of traveling and will be able to keep you updated on any news. Keep your back on the run of your term and I hope you'll exercise your freedom of choice by casting a vote on election day.

Toll Ann Beveridge

Finally, graduation is upon us. Now, all we need to do is to find a job or a graduate school that will take us, all while finding time to complete our degree requirements. This is definitely a time of change. But, once we have all settled down, I am sure that most of us will think back on the exciting and in some cases, conceived and developed. However, I have been given a lot of myself to what I consider to be a worthwhile organization and I feel I have been reasonably successful in pulling together good programs and events for our class. I've organized events, pubs, picnics, study breaks, and parties (complete with CD player door prizes) and have had some remarkable breakthroughs. Of course, I've also learned a lot about how to improve and after each new election, I have tried to reflect on the previous year's activities to avoid repeating the same mistakes and to come up with new innovative ideas. Following that tradition, post-election activities, I intend to continue to organize regional social events to help our class members in touch with having helped make the future time and we hope to continue this past graduation. I've taken the responsibilities of my office seriously and I hope the results will meet your approval.

The leadership of our class is very important to me and I want to see the most qualified people in the positions of our permanent executives. I honestly believe I am the right person for the office of president and I hope you will give me your support and to prove to you that I am well qualified for the position.

Secretary

Mary E. Cox

In a few months, we'll have graduated and gone our separate ways. My hope is that most of us will finally admit to having reached the best years of our lives. As Secretary, I think that for most of us the high quality of our M.I.T. education will take pleasure in sharing the future ups and downs of information involving our class reunion. I will use my past experiences and surveys and I hope to continue this important position and to publish the class notes in Technology Review.

This is the chance for all of you to let everyone know what you're up to. gossip is my middle name and I'll be able to write about all those missed experiences that we know everyone is going to have. (Dear Mary, my cat just had seven kittens.) Also, as a member of the Air Force, I'll be doing a lot of traveling and will be able to keep you updated on any news. Keep your back on the run of your term and I hope you'll exercise your freedom of choice by casting a vote on election day.

Toll Ann Beveridge

Finally, graduation is upon us. Now, all we need to do is to find a job or a graduate school that will take us, all while finding time to complete our degree requirements. This is definitely a time of change. But, once we have all settled down, I am sure that most of us will think back on the exciting and in some cases, conceived and developed. However, I have been given a lot of myself to what I consider to be a worthwhile organization and I feel I have been reasonably successful in pulling together good programs and events for our class. I've organized events, pubs, picnics, study breaks, and parties (complete with CD player door prizes) and have had some remarkable breakthroughs. Of course, I've also learned a lot about how to improve and after each new election, I have tried to reflect on the previous year's activities to avoid repeating the same mistakes and to come up with new innovative ideas. Following that tradition, post-election activities, I intend to continue to organize regional social events to help our class members in touch with having helped make the future time and we hope to continue this past graduation. I've taken the responsibilities of my office seriously and I hope the results will meet your approval.

The leadership of our class is very important to me and I want to see the most qualified people in the positions of our permanent executives. I honestly believe I am the right person for the office of president and I hope you will give me your support and to prove to you that I am well qualified for the position.