Protesters confront Prime Minister

(Continued from page 10)

The embassy claimed that Manikkalingam's disappearance had been an international situation, and the police officer admitted that he was blocked by the police officer. "This is our property," he said, to no avail.

Julian Joseph '85 also blocked by police. "What am I supposed to do, resist arrest?" he asked. "Why can't an MIT student go where he wants to?"

Joseph later admitted that he is not currently an MIT student. Several other students were not stopped as they moved to the other side of the building. As Premadasa's party left Ayubdurai shouted, "Mr. Prime Minister, I want to speak to you; I am a Tamil."

Joseph asked an accompanying camera crew to prove they had a free press. "Cover this protest," he yelled.

The party quickly entered their cars and drove away.

classified advertising

Classified Advertising in The Tech:
$5.00 per insertion for each 35 words or less.
Each display ad will be given a Classified ad
free of charge.

Downtown, Ask for classified folder. Flexible hours. 492-0699.

"80 Chevy Citation, excellent condition, power brakes and air-conditioning. $1800 o
b. Call 492-0699 or 435-219 or 491-5279.

The MIT Equipment Exchange offers surplus equipment and used technicians to students and staff at reasonable prices. Located in Building 26-200, 724 Albany Street. Open Tues.,
Thurs. 11 am - 3 pm.

"The MIT Equipment Exchange
items available.

Academic Year of Comparative Study and World Travel

Film, Television and Social Change in Europe and Asia

September 1986 – May 1987

HARVARD UNIVERSITY FACULTY

Stanley Cavell, Robert Gardner, Wm. Rothman
Charles Warren

itinerary includes

Europe, England, Italy, Thailand, Japan, China, Hongkong and Los Angeles

LIMITED TO THIRTY STUDENTS

For further information call Jean Tiffany (617) 367-5512
The International Honors Program
19 Braddock Park
Boston, MA 02116