Men's gymnastics sees mixed results in final meet

By Eri M. Rolfscheidtner

The MIT men's gymnastics team experienced a day of mixed emotions in its final meet of the regular season. Despite achieving a season-high team score, MIT had a final chance to post the game away for good. It looked as if the game might run into overtime until Nichols was associated a penalty at the 11:17 mark for hitting from behind. Nichols defeated MIT hockey, 5-4

(Continued from page 20)

Nichols defeated MIT hockey, 5-4

Clue 5

First was 9,000,000 next was 4,000,000 current is 4,000,000

Rules

Only members of the 1999 undergraduate class may enter. Students in the Ring Committee are not eligible. One entry per envelope allowed. The winner will be determined by the earliest postmarked envelope sent to address below. The winner will be announced at the Class of 1999 Ring Dinner, May 6, in the Beaver Room.

 três student members of the 1989 class will receive a 1989 Class of 1989 Ring Premiere. The name ot first Alumnus, name of first student member of the 1989 class to correctly explain all the clues and identify the Alumnus, will receive the Alumnus member of the 1989 class may enter. No entry will be announced at the Class of 1989 Ring Dinner.

Winning entry will be determined by the earliest postmarked envelope sent to address below. The winner will be announced at the Class of 1999 Ring Dinner, May 6, in the Beaver Room.

Boston Zoological Society

445 45008

Franklin Park Zoo

SANS

Delicatessen

What's your pleasure? Thinly sliced pastrami? Curried chicken with rice? Or how about a shrimp salad or duckling and raspberry sauce?

The Tech's 44th Yearbook

Photography

Armen Gaspian

Franklin Park Zoo

SANS

Delicatessen

What's your pleasure? Thinly sliced pastrami? Curried chicken with rice? Or how about a shrimp salad or duckling and raspberry sauce?

The Tech's 44th Yearbook

Photography

Armen Gaspian

Franklin Park Zoo