Institute has right to restrict films

For someone to determine what is not allowed on his own property is not censorship. In this particular case, if a student wants to show a pornographic movie on Registration Day but MIT自行 him permission to do so on campus, he is perfectly free to show the film on campus, as long as he can find someone who will permit him to rent or use his space. His right to freedom of expression is, therefore, not being denied.

Prof. Dershowitz's argument would be correct if this were a case of government censorship of certain forms of expression. Cer-
