The Tech Page 13

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1987

ARTS

On The Town

Compiled by Peter Dunn

The Silver of the Nineteenth Century, an exhibition of works in marble by the first Americans to study in France, continues through September at Boston University's Mugar Memorial Library, 771 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston. Gallery hours are Monday through Saturday, 9am-5pm. No admission charge. Telephone: 353-2134.

The Crane Estate, in the town of Ipswich, Mass., continues through October 4. The Crane Estate is open daily from 10am to 5pm. Admission charge. Telephone: 975-3659.

Jazz Music

The Coolidge Corner presents "The Great Dictator" at 6 pm and "Modern Times" (1936) with "Easy Money" at 9:30 at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, 68 Brookline Street, Brookline. Telephone: 536-9438.

The Casablanca presents "The Cooler" at 7:30 pm and "The African Queen" at 9:30 pm. Telephone: 787-8000.

The Somerville Theatre presents "This Is 40," a comedy revue, at 8:30 at the Somerville Theatre, 425 Somerville Avenue, Somerville. Telephone: 745-3300.

"Balm in Gilead," a drama by Lanford Wilson, continues at the New York Shakespeare Festival at the Public Theater, 425 Lafayette Street, New York City. At 8:30 pm, Tues-Sat. At 2 pm, Sat. At 6:30 pm, Wed & Sun. Telephone: 978-4242.

EXHIBITS
