Two students hold up outside Gray's house
By Paul Shure
Two MIT students were mugged in front of the house of President Paul E. Gray '54 the night of Tuesday, Sept. 12, according to Campus Police Chief James O'Grady.
One of the assailants had a switchblade knife, and the other appeared to have a gun. The muggers took approximately $70 from one of the students.
This was the first reported mugging of an MIT student since last April, Olivieri said.
The students were walking along Memorial Drive toward Bunker Hill when the robbery occurred, according to one of the assailants who wished to remain anonymous. Two men came up behind them, saying, "We've got a gun. Give us all your money."
The students handed over the money, and the men walked away.
A related incident had occurred in the area earlier that night. According to Richard Berning, an analyst with the Cambridge Police, the mugging took place around 1:30 am on Cross St. just past MIT on Massa-cohust Ave. The descriptions of the assailants were similar in the two incidents, and knives were used in both.
Assailants sentenced in April
By Paul Shure
She was the first reported mugging of an MIT student since last April, Olivieri said.
The students were walking along Memorial Drive toward the house of President Paul E. Gray '54 the night of Tuesday, Sept. 12, according to Campus Police Chief James O'Grady.
One of the assailants had a switchblade knife, and the other appeared to have a gun. The muggers took approximately $70 from one of the students.
This was the first reported mugging of an MIT student since last April, Olivieri said.
The students were walking along Memorial Drive toward Bunker Hill when the robbery occurred, according to one of the assailants who wished to remain anonymous. Two men came up behind them, saying, "We've got a gun. Give us all your money."
The students handed over the money, and the men walked away.
A related incident had occurred in the area earlier that night. According to Richard Berning, an analyst with the Cambridge Police,
the mugging took place around 1:30 am on Cross St. just past MIT on Massa-cohust Ave. The descriptions of the assailants were similar in the two incidents, and knives were used in both.
Assailants sentenced in April
By Paul Shure
She was the first reported mugging of an MIT student since last April, Olivieri said.
The students were walking along Memorial Drive toward Bunker Hill when the robbery occurred, according to one of the assailants who wished to remain anonymous. Two men came up behind them, saying, "We've got a gun. Give us all your money."
The students handed over the money, and the men walked away.
A related incident had occurred in the area earlier that night. According to Richard Berning, an analyst with the Cambridge Police,
the mugging took place around 1:30 am on Cross St. just past MIT on Massa-cohust Ave. The descriptions of the assailants were similar in the two incidents, and knives were used in both.
Assailants sentenced in April
By Paul Shure
She was the first reported mugging of an MIT student since last April, Olivieri said.
The students were walking along Memorial Drive toward Bunker Hill when the robbery occurred, according to one of the assailants who wished to remain anonymous. Two men came up behind them, saying, "We've got a gun. Give us all your money."
The students handed over the money, and the men walked away.
A related incident had occurred in the area earlier that night. According to Richard Berning, an analyst with the Cambridge Police,
the mugging took place around 1:30 am on Cross St. just past MIT on Massa-cohust Ave. The descriptions of the assailants were similar in the two incidents, and knives were used in both.