A bungled battle in the War on Drugs

The term was coming to a close, and "NB," a student at a small liberal arts college in Hick- town, USA, wanted to celebrate. Unlike most college students, who might drink a beer or two simply jump up and down, NB decided to take some LSD. In fact, he took alive times the normal dose.

To the casual observer, these would appear to be table rocks. To the casual observer, NB had been growing some mariju- ana in his room. But even more important, he had been bringing in drugs on his trips away from home. But these eager soldiers faced a formidable foe - he had grown the drugs himself. NB is a formidable foe - he uses a variety of growing techniques to make his drugs and bars. He has also been using techniques to hide his drugs. NB has been using techniques to hide his drugs. He has also been using techniques to hide his drugs. NB has been using techniques to hide his drugs. He has also been using techniques to hide his drugs.
