Better batting boosts offense

(Continued from page 12)

In baseball in the 1940s there was a do-or-die double plays while posting a 290 average that included six doubles.

At this year, '94, another member of a very prominent freshman class parking immediate dividends, and Somerville are carrying more than their share of the offensive load from their spots on the left side of the in-

Only three games remain after this weekend as the Beavers try to pass the 200 mark: it won't be

A home game next Tuesday versus University of Massachusetts-Boston is followed by away games at Division I Harvard and Northeastern, the latter of which is enjoying an outstanding year and may be on its way to the NCAA tournament in late May.

First, however, the Beavers hope to establish themselves as the integral champions of the CAC ("a test yesterday over Bahnese did not go as it should."

The Constitution conference was put together this year for the sake of joining its schools with the desire of fielding high-quality baseball teams making a premium on academics.

Eight riders will go to nationals

(Continued from page 12)

quarter of a mile. The A team, Armstrong, Kevin Heterington '94, Merrill, Meyer and Preist, edged by Penn State, winning by 12 seconds, while the B team also won the TTT by 4:4562 on the weekend before, Star-defending champion UMass by ever a minute.

The mens' B time trial was as exciting As the A race as was the individual. Lew, Oppenheim, Pawlowicz, Ruch and Adam Schwartz '91 lost to the Yale team by a heart-breaking 6 seconds. The last was all the more painful because a car was parked at the finish line as the team finished. The cyclists were forced to slow down to the car because of the difference in the hills according to the team.

Sunday afternoon brought the criteriums, ran on a 7-mile loop with a short hill and a torturous 35-mile descent, and what may have been the finest performance of the weekend by an MIT rider, the superb job of placing some racing well.

Pawlowicz attacked on the first lap of the race and had gained a 15-second lead two laps into the race. When the field began its chase, Lew charged to the front. About halfway through the race a serious crash brought things to a halt for 20 minutes. While injured riders were taken by ambulance from the course, racing stopped.

When the course was clear Pawlowicz was given a 30-second head start, but the field was recon-planted and ready to chase. But Pawlowicz kept his earlier pace and cruised across the finish line 45 seconds ahead of the pack.

FIG.

In the women's criterium, Carlson rode with a chase group that failed to catch Mary Mull of Wil-

RESEARCH

Progenics Pharmaceuticals, Inc., a Westchester NY biotechnology company, seeks technicians and associate scientists.

Research experience in molecular biology, protein chemistry, or cell biology preferred. Excellent salary and benefits. Send CV:

P. O. Box 549
Tarrytown, NY 10591.

---

IMMIGRATION

- H-1 Visas
- Labor Certification
- Employer Preference Petitions
- Immigration Planning

Law Offices of
Richard Ianclodd & Associates
36 Melrose Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
(617) 482-1010

---

No. 6

Summer Housing
River Views Available
Double and Two-Room Doubles $460 - $900 for the Summer
Washers and Dryers Available
- 15 minute walk to Harvard Bus
- 10 minutes from Red Line
- Kitchens Facilities Available

Call Alice Kanten 494-5292
Annie Casters 494-8033

No. 6 Club
Second Floor
400 Memorial Dr.
Cambridge, MA 02139

---

When you look at a stone, do you see a pet rock?

Then its time to visit the Fall River Office of Economic Development (FROGED). We can help you, creative, energetic entrepreneurs turn their business dreams into real ity. With FROGED's low-interest financing, you can take full advantage of Fall River, one of New England's leading industrial areas. Combining inexpensive industrial space ideal for R&D, with a panoramic waterfront, Fall River is the perfect home as you leave MIT and venture into the "real world". For more information, contact Joseph Raposo at (508) 324-2626.

---

Pattaya

The only 1, 2 and 3 star
restaurant in Boston

★ to dine
★ to brunch
★ to take out

You'll love the true taste of Thai cooking at Pattaya for lunch or dinner from our all new expanded menu. Spicy or not. The whole secret is in our famous sauce created by Chef Poornara. At Pattaya you can also enjoy our all-you-can-eat Sunday Buffet 12-3:30 p.m. for just $8.95 plus 15% gratuity. And if you can't dine with us, why not order an All Star Pattaya Takeout? Function Room Available. We also do catering.

---

New Saturday Brunch

Includes choice of soup, appetizer, entree and soft drink. Only $8.95, plus 15% gratuity. From 11:30-3 p.m.

---

Volunteer Opportunity!

WHEN WOMEN'S HEALTH EDUCATION NETWORK

The MIT Medical Department's Health Education Service is looking for undergraduate women with an interest in women's health to join the Women's Health Education Network (WHEN). After training, members of the network offer information about women's health and health-related decision-making to interested students and small groups on campus.

If you want to become a member of WHEN or would like more information, contact Anne Gilligan at 253-1316. Interviews and training will be conducted in September.