ATTENTION
International Students
If you plan to travel outside of the United States, please remember to stop by the International Student Office, 5-106. You need to have page 4 of your I-20 or the pink page of your IAP-66 signed by one of the International Student Advisors. If your I-20 or IAP-66 has already been signed this semester, you do not need another signature. Also be sure to pickup the appropriate travel handouts.
Please keep in mind that most international students travel during the holidays. The International Student Office is generally flooded with requests at this time. Stop by early to ensure that your documents are in order, especially if you need to apply for a new visa!

FOR $25 WE'LL LET YOU HANG OUT IN THE QUAD.

$25 mid-week lift ticket - Why hang around between the library and the student union, when you can head out for some high-speed fun? This year, check out our 43 foxtail runs, and ski 127 trails in all, the most in the East. And for a week of parking and skiing, make plans for Snowbiks* 92: Jan. 3-5, Jan. 6-10, and Jan. 13-17. For conditions call 802-454-2151.

800 245 SNOW
Mount Snow
Mount Snow
One of the ski areas is close.
Offer good holiday through Friday, new holdings, with a current college 11.2.

GRAB THESE GREAT GIFT IDEAS FROM THE MIT PRESS

Snarf the Season!

The New Hacker's Dictionary (edited by Eric Raymond, foreword and cartoons by Guy C. Steele, Jr. From ock to zorch — and with hundreds of other entries in between — The New Hacker's Dictionary offers an armchair tour of hackerland's myths, heroes, folk-epics, in-jokes, taboos, and dreams — a motley and thought-provoking unveiling of the continent-spanning electronic communities that knit hackers together. 428 pp. cloth. $22.00 each. $14.95 paper.

The Architecture of Western Gardens (208 pp. cloth. $24.95) edited by Maryrose Moser and Georges Toyyse: "A monumental and brilliantly illustrated physical and intellectual history of gardens since the Renaissance that belongs in every serious library, invaluable to every student" — Henry Mitchell, Garden Columnist, Washington Post.

Wild India (400 pp., 137 illus.) by Gerald Cubitt. Wild India is a valuable current reference for the student, horticulturist, or anyone interested in India's irreplaceable natural heritage. Lavishly illustrated. Currently available at MIT Press. $40.00 cloth. $15.00 paper.

Cyberspace (edited by Michael L. Benedikt). Cyberspace, "an infinite artificial world where humans navigate in information-based space," is the most radically innovative of today's computer developments. Original contributions by science fiction writer William Gibson explore the philosophical basis for cyberspace in ancient thought, the relevance of the body in virtual reality, basic communications principles for cyberspace, the ramifications of cyberspace for future workplaces, and a great deal more. 550 pp., cloth. $22.00.

The Definitively Unfinished Marcel Duchamp (edited by Thierry de Duve). The Duchamps represented here are the leading European and American critics of their generation — a number of whom have staked out opposing territories, making for a particularly animating critique of this fascinating artist and his provocative work. Lavishly illustrated. Copublished with the Nova Scotia College of Art and Design. 512 pp. 274 illus. $29.95.

HUGE HOLIDAY SAVINGS

- 10% off all MIT Press publications with this ad (one ad per customer, expires 1/6/92)
- Grab extra bargains in hurt books
- Check out special and excellent gifts
- 3% on sale-priced gift books
- Feast on specials and other surprises

MIT Press Bookstore
Kendall Square 200 Main Street Cambridge MA 02142 617-955-5949 Hours: M-F 9-7, Sat 10-6, Sun 12-6