If you're the best in your class, your career should be one failure after another.

Engineers
MS and PhD graduates
Failure is our business. We are the largest and most experienced engineering consulting firm in the nation specializing in the analysis and prevention of mechanical, structural, and materials failure. Founded in 1967 by a group of Stanford University engineers, we've since analyzed thousands of failures — from airplane crashes to building collapses, from power plant failures to super tanker sinkings. We've investigated highly publicized disasters like the December 1989 crane collapse in downtown San Francisco. We've provided technical advice in areas as different as NASA's space shuttle and children's toys. We offer some of the most challenging engineering work available anywhere.

We're seeking MS and PhD graduates in Mechanical, Civil/Structural, Materials and Environmental Engineering. If you are interested in learning more about Failure Analysis Associates, Inc., join us for a very special presentation which will include an overview of the firm (including actual case footnotes), available employment, and the opportunity to meet our company's biggest failure.
