Virginia Backs Abortion Curb

Sen. Bob Kerrey Drops Out of Democratic Presidential Race

By Jonathan Peterson and Karen Tumulty

The Virginia Senate approved a bill Wednesday that would require abortionists to notify at least one parent before performing abortions on girls age 13 or younger, similar to a measure already passed by the House.

The Senate’s 27 to 12 vote came on a bill that both sides said could produce the most important restriction on abortion rights in Virginia’s legislative history since the Supreme Court’s Roe vs. Wade decision.

The version passed by the House sets the age at which girls’ par- ents must be notified at 17 and under. If the two houses compromise on the age, the measure would go to Gov. L. Douglas Wilder, who was elected in 1989 on a strong abortion-rights platform.

Bonn Calls for Honecker’s Return

By Christopher Burket

BERLIN

Germany launched a major diplomatic offensive Thursday to get former East German Communist leader Erich Honecker out of the Chilian Embassy in Moscow, where he has sought refuge, and into a Berlin jail, saying Honecker was well enough to travel even though he has cancer.

German ambassadors delivered messages in atypically unfriendly language informing Chile and Russia that Boms were ready to try the 79-year-old Honecker delivered to German prosecutors immediately. Bonn wants him to stand trial for the deaths of more than 200 East Germans, including his former wife and her 13 children.

The defendants had worked together as members of a successful anti-drug team in the Lennox area of Los Angeles before the team was broken up last year for racketeering.

Kerrey added, however, that he had not seen a reason to drop the case of a veteran who won the nation’s highest decoration for bravery, as well as an enterprise state award, for saving 13 lives during his service as an infantry officer and half a term as a senator.

The lawsuit was filed by a group of Americans who said they had been refused entry to the country. The defendants are seeking to show that the plaintiffs’ claim against the defendants was not the White House.

"The cause that got me into this to begin with is still alive, and I feel a sense of purpose to participate in that cause. I’ve driven a head on the order of the president of the United States," he said at a Capitol Hill news conference attended by several former service members and members of cheering supporters.

"The spark and the flame have not died."

David Madoff

The federal civil rights trial of six Los Angeles County narcotics officers ended late last night as the jury added one more acquittal to a string of not-guilty verdicts but deadlocked on one count in a case involving a illegal drug bust that ended in six deaths.

"I feel a little like the Jamaican bobsled team. ... We had a lot of spirit, but unfortunately, we didn’t get a lot of medals. ... The spark and flame is still alive."

Sen. Bob Kerrey

"I have a little like the Jamaican bobsled team. ... We had a lot of spirit, but unfortunately, we didn’t get a lot of medals. ... The spark and flame is still alive."

"I have a little like the Jamaican bobsled team. ... We had a lot of spirit, but unfortunately, we didn’t get a lot of medals. ... The spark and flame is still alive."

 instantly cooling

Backdoor" cooling

By Michael C. Morgan

A backdoor front, a sure sign of the season, will be located to our north this afternoon. Partly cloudy and becoming chilly. Highs around 40 (4°C).

The federal civil rights trial of six Los Angeles County narcotics officers ended late last night as the jury added one more acquittal to a string of not-guilty verdicts but deadlocked on one count in a case involving a illegal drug bust that ended in six deaths.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.

The offensive was "ill-timed, ill-thought and ill-conceived," said Democratic pollster Peter Hart, con- tending that Kerrey would have been better off shifting the blame for the disaster to his independent challenger.