SECRETARY

Leslie Barnett

I would like to be an active shaper of the Class of '92, whether or not I am elected secretary. Keeping the spirit of our class alive is especially important to me. Call me sentimental. After all, we are what they call the "last experimental class." I believe in our class"tastic spirit. It will be my responsibility as secretary to publish the Class Newsletter so that we may all maintain contact with our peers after graduation. The class newsletter will reflect our successes as a class and as individuals. It is my hope that we will show the Institute and the world what a remarkable group of people we really are. Vote for me for 1992 Secretary and don't forget to be at our reunion in May.

CLASS AGENT

Joanna Stone

When I first met MIT on Women's weekend so many years ago, my pre-freshman host told me that everybody loves a love-hate relationship with MIT. This certainly proved true in my case as I went through four years of hatred with this place. But, in the end I have come to love it and I am sure you will, too. In fact, it's the things that initially made me hate MIT—such as the fact that we work an order of magnitude more than our counterparts down south. And—this has done more to get me to appreciate that unique alma matre that we all share in common.

Our class is a unique class, the last "dharma" class. I want to work to make our class shine by being an active class agent and in the greater community, for years to come. As our first year president, I want us all to be able to talk and learn about how great we are because we are diversity that will help us to bring pride to MIT along with large funds, a more frequent face of the fraction.

MEMBER AT LARGE (2)

Ajanta Guha

As we leave MIT and move on to the next stage of life, it will become increasingly difficult to maintain contact with classmates. I feel that as a member of the Executive Class, I will be able to facilitate contact between you and your friends in the Class of '92. I plan to follow three broad strategies: to maintain a list of all living Class of '92 alumni; to foster higher-quality alumni events; and to establish a network of Class of '92 alumni.

Roopa Mehendale (above right)

When the Class of 1992 entered MIT, it was immediately obvious that we possessed characteristics that set us apart from all other classes. We are a unique and vibrant group of individuals. As a member of the Class of 1992, I have learned from many of these characteristics, which include interest in community service, experience in leadership positions, and a commitment to personal growth and development. These characteristics have defined the Class of 1992 for five years now, from that day on, and will show the same.

CLASS OF 1993

PRESIDENT

Walter Babiec

Pride, spirit, tradition, and identity within MIT and our class are symbolized in the Beaver Ring. As Co-Chairperson of the Class of 1994 Ring Committee I have learned much about these ideals, and I can help our class realize them as President.

All too often our class, as a whole, is blamed for lack of student experience or involvement. There is a need for a greater focus on student involvement, both in terms of leadership and participation experience to do.

CLASS OF 1994

PRESIDENT

Michael Gull

One of the primary reasons I have chosen to run for class office is the success that all MIT students seem to achieve after graduation. One might read the Tech notes in Technology Review; it is often that a daily edition of The New York Times contains something about MIT graduate. Does this mean it means that MIT alumni make a broad impression on society as well as contribute to society? It is my hope that we can show that this is true.

CLASS OF 1994

VICE PRESIDENT

Ann Chen

Because I am experienced, dedicated, and responsible, I am running for the Class of 1994 Vice President. After being class secretary for a year, I know what the job of VP involves. I am ready to assume my duties. I have displayed my commitment to our class by attending events, classes, and class meetings during my first year. I would also like to increase the overall participation of our class in class matters, and I will work hard to ensure that this happens.

Sita Verkataraman

I feel that I'd make a good candidate for Class Agent because I have a great amount of experience with high leadership from high school. My past leadership experience includes being the President of the Interact Club, a community service group through a local rotary club. I want to be an active leader in the Class of '94. I would like to be involved in the planning for next year's class activities such as a class BBQ, ski trip, tennis, movie nights, and an event planned to celebrate the Class of '92. A second idea I'd like to implement would be to have an "off-campus" career fair, for those of us who are not involved in MIT.

CLASS OF 1992

TREASURER

David Park

I'm happy to see our class as a "new" class this year, with many exciting events and activities planned for us. I believe that we can make a difference in our class, and I would like to contribute my leadership skills and enthusiasm to our class. My goal is to maintain a strong and active class treasury, which will support our class activities.

CLASS OF 1993

VICE PRESIDENT

Seth Cohen

One of the primary reasons I have chosen to run for class office is the success that all MIT students seem to achieve after graduation. One might read the Tech notes in Technology Review; it is often that a daily edition of The New York Times contains something about MIT graduate. Does this mean it means that MIT alumni make a broad impression on society as well as contribute to society? It is my hope that we can show that this is true.

CLASS OF 1994

VICE PRESIDENT

David Park

I'm happy to see our class as a "new" class this year, with many exciting events and activities planned for us. I believe that we can make a difference in our class, and I would like to contribute my leadership skills and enthusiasm to our class. My goal is to maintain a strong and active class treasury, which will support our class activities.