Letters to the Editor

Europeans Should Wait On Rush Towards Unity

Column by Matthew H. Hersch

Europe is the only place in the world where two caucasian males can hate each other for racial reasons.

Perhaps they are in need of a new lens prescriptions. As a senior reflecting upon the freeze friends I’ve made here, the following proves true of every one of them: they are very intelligent (some brilliant), funny, have many interests and abundant personality — and yes, they are all attractive.

If these men choose to hold on to such clichés, alienating themselves from women who share the MIT experience with them, then it’s their loss.

Letters Policy

Editorials, printed in a distinctive format, are the official opinion of The Tech. They are written by the editorial board, which consists of the chairmen, editor in chief, managing editor, executive editor, news editors and opinion editors.

Dispatches, marked as such and printed in a distinctive format, are the opinions of the signed members of the editorial board choosing to publish their disagreement with the editorial board.

Columns and editorial cartoons are written by individuals and represent the opinion of the author, not necessarily that of the newspaper.

Letters to the editor are welcome. They must be typed, double-spaced and addressed to The Tech, PO Box 29, MIT Branch, Cambridge, Mass. 02139, or by interdepartmental mail to Room W20-483. Electronic submissions in plain text format may be mailed to letters@tech-mit.edu. All submissions are due by 4 pm. two days before the publication date.

Letters and cartoons must bear the author’s signatures, addresses, and phone numbers. Unsigned letters will not be accepted. No letter or cartoon will be printed anonymously without the express prior approval of The Tech. The Tech reserves the right to edit or condense letters. Shorter letters will be given higher priority. We regret we cannot publish all of the letters we receive.
