Men's Crew Wins Gold in Fours and Eights in Textile Regatta

By Lorin Theiss

The men's varsity heavyweight crew continued its successful season by contributing to the capture of the overall points trophy in Sunday's Textile River Regatta. This was the second year MIT won the trophy. The Engineers accumulated more than twice as many points as their nearest competitors.

In the morning open four event, MIT's heavyweight men entered six boats, all of which placed in the top nine of the 15 competitors. The top three MIT boats captured the top three places. The first two MIT fours began the race with a staggered start and fought competitively over the three-mile course, sprinting neck-and-neck to the finish.

The entire team performed well over the three-mile course, sprinting with great effort. And where those who were successful to run together in order to be able to help each other stay focused through a tough course, and were quite successful at it.

Leading the Beavers were Agnieszka Reiss '95 and Marjorie Delo '95, who finished fourth and fifth, respectively. Stephanie Spencer '93 was close behind, crossing the finish line in eleventh place, and Gwen Rau '95 and Evelyn Kao '95 followed in fifteenth and seventeenth. Cynthia Mowery '96, in an attempt to improve her time, was out of the race a few seconds later, giving MIT the opportunity which is essential for any team.

Today's race was a total team effort our fours team raced to keep it up as the season goes on. Not only the front group but the entire team has been running closer and closer together in every meet, developing strength and depth.

Sousa was pleased, too, explaining that MIT is starting to pose a threat to teams that have beaten the Beavers soundly in the past. "There is still a lot of work to be done, though," he added. "We're about halfway through the season now, so there are many challenges out there for us. Hopefully we will be able to meet them."

The next such challenge is this afternoon, when MIT travels to Waltham.

X-Country Performs at Invitational

By Agnieszka Reiss

The women's crown team placed second in a field of seven teams in last Saturday's Connecticut College Invitational meet.

The entire team performed well on Connecticut's extremely hilly course, and scored only five points to the harrier's 21 while holding 3rd place Fairfield to 79 points. According to coach Joe Sousa, the MIT women "tried hard to run together in order to be able to help each other stay focused through a tough course, and were quite successful at it."

Leading the Beavers were Agnieszka Reiss '95 and Marjorie Delo '95, who finished fourth and fifth, respectively. Stephanie Spencer '93 was close behind, crossing the finish line in eleventh place, and Gwen Rau '95 and Evelyn Kao '95 followed in fifteenth and seventeenth. Cynthia Mowery '96, in an attempt to improve her time, was out of the race a few seconds later, giving MIT the opportunity which is essential for any team.

Today's race was a total team effort, said Delo. "Everybody ran as well as they could," Kao concurred, saying, "I'm very happy with our improvement over the past few meets. Hopefully we'll be able to keep it up as the season goes on."

Not only the front group but the entire team has been running closer and closer together in every meet, developing strength and depth. Sousa was pleased, too, explaining that MIT is starting to pose a threat to teams that have beaten the Beavers soundly in the past. "There is still a lot of work to be done, though," he added. "We're about halfway through the season now, so there are many challenges out there for us. Hopefully we will be able to meet them."

The next such challenge is this afternoon, when MIT travels to Waltham.

When You're Considering An Analyst Position in Investment Banking, Consider One More Thing.

Consider the investment bank that is uniquely in tune with the abilities and aspirations of the people who comprise it. Where high professional standards are reflected in principled every day practices. Where the talent of each individual is an integral part of the team effort. And where those who choose to accept the challenges set for them grow both personally and professionally.

In Short, Consider Investment Banking at Goldman Sachs.

Goldman Sachs Financial Analyst Program Information Session

Thursday, October 29, 1992
Room 4 - 163
6:30 p.m.

All undergraduates are encouraged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

BOSTON SAIL LOFT

Cafe & Bar

With the purchase of one brunch entree, receive another with our compliments.

Sunday Brunch is served noon til 3 p.m., includes a Bloody Mary or Mimosa and typically features:

- Eggs Benedict
- Poached Salmon
- Belgian Waffles
- Hot Turkey Platter
- Corn Beef Hash
- and much more...

- footsteps from the Kendall Square T stop
- Indoor parking
- Private room available
- Coupon valid Sun-Thur after 5 p.m. at the Cambridge location only
- Not valid for take-out, daily brunch special, and Big Deal dinners
- Please call 255-2222 for directions and reservations

Coupon expires 12/5/92

Garber Travel wants to send you HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

We guarantee the Lowest Available Airfares to your Hometown!

call your nearest Garber Travel Agent at: 1105 Mass. Ave. CAMBRIDGE 492-2300