Don't you do enough cramping during finals?

Introducing the USAir Shuttle FlightPass

As low as $47.90

Between LaGuardia, Boston, or Washington, D.C.

So you think you can't afford to fly home over the break? Think again. With a valid student ID, you can buy a USAir Shuttle FlightPass. Now until the end of the year, a book of one way tickets costs $259 and a book of 10 just $479. Then you're good to go. Just show up. Check in. And take off.

But first, be sure to join the USAir Frequent Traveler Program. After just 20,000 miles, members earn a free trip to hundreds of destinations, including Florida. That comes in pretty handy when spring break rolls around.

Call your travel consultant or USAir at (800) 428-4322. Chances are you'll be pulling a few all-nighters this semester. But your trip home shouldn't have to be one of them.

USAir Shuttle begins with you.

USAIR SHUTTLE FLIGHTPASSES REQUIREMENTS: FlightPasses certificates valid for travel for youths 12 years of age and younger with valid student I.D. and 13. Requires same certificate as passenger adults. Certificates are not transferable and non-refundable. Travel is valid on USAir and USAir Shuttle only. Travel begins Thursday, October 31st. Flights are subject to availability.一朵花里

USACDC

This space donated by The Tech