after discovering that a ship’s cook (Steven Seagal) is out to eliminate them, in the poorly written Naval commander Krill (Gary Busey) and deranged ex-Special Forces leader Strannix (Tommy Lee Jones) rethink their strategy. Senator Paiste (Gore Vidal) are a waste of money. The film’s scathing indictment of candidates and campaigning in the era of entertainment is accurate, hilarious, and troubling.

Bob Roberts* Husband and Wives
This is an amazing film dealing with anti-Semitism in the 1930’s. Brenda Fraser delivers a powerful performance as David Greene, who is recruited from a poor town to play football for an elite preparatory school. David at first hides the fact that he is Jewish and fits in well with his new group of friends. What they find out that he is Jewish, each reacts differently. The movie examines different forms of prejudice in the actions of David’s friends after their discovery. Overall, the acting is convincing, the story is feasible, and the moral well presented. The film properly balances a humorous and serious side, yielding a final product that is as meaningful as it is enjoyable to watch. Loews Copley Place

Triple Peaks: Fire Walk with Me*: Excellent
The light and entertaining film focuses on the struggles of six singles in their 20s as they try to understand love and relationships. Steve Cambell, Kyra Sedgwick, Bridge Fonda, and Matt Dillon are all good, the script by director Cameron Crowe is often extremely funny, and Seattle locations and music provide an interesting backdrop. Although it is not as realistic as Crowe’s Say Anything, the movie is filled with most of the moments that are filled with tasteful familiarity. Loews Copley Place

Under Siege*: Good
Under Siege is a poorly written film that relies on violence rather than substance to be entertaining. Steven Seagal is Casey Ryback, an ex-Navy SEAL who is masquerading as a cook on the USS Missouri when a gang of hijackers (led by Tommy Lee Jones and Gary Busey) takes over the ship. Ryback must single-handedly eliminate all the bad guys and save the day, which turns into Ryback scoring the ship and coming up with new and creative ways to eliminate the enemy. The martial arts sequences are impressive and Tommy Lee Jones delivers a powerful performance as the mastermind terrorist, but the bad writing evidenced in the incredibly weak female role and the lack of any interesting plot twist ruins everything. Richard Gere

Fancy and disturbing, this satire of American politics written and directed by its star, Tim Robbins, uses a mock documentary style to chronicle the rise to power of the fictional Bob Roberts. Roberts is a right-wing entertainer, entrepreneur, and political candidate who has adopted folk singing as a medium for his conservative attitudes, and whose date who has adopted folk singing as a medium for her conservatism. The movie is occasionally funny, but it is more convincing when it dramatizes its characters’ inability to find fulfillment. Loews Harvard
