THE BODGURD

Mediocre Bodyguard fails to protect stars from dry acting

T he Bodyguard, Warner Brothers’ latest movie release, stars Whitney Houston (not her real name) in her acting debut and Kevin Costner (probably not his either). Whitney essentially plays herself, but now her name is Rachel Marron. Rachel is a tem-teramental pop singer who lacks songwriting ability and good musical taste, so her phenomenal voice is the only appeal of her music. You’d think it would be easy to add a little depth to your own character, making it more able to stop Hinckley? The question hangs like an

The movie really isn’t worth your seven dollars, though it will be at least worth the rental fee at Tower. This mediocre film is also

FOR MIT CANDIDATES AT THE

DRESDNER BANK IN GERMANY

The Dresdner Bank, Germany’s second largest bank and a leading player in the international banking world, is inviting MIT students with appropriate majors to apply to the bank for summer internships and for permanent positions. The unification of Germany and the opening of markets in eastern Europe have created exciting opportunities for students who plan to apply to graduate school. Recent MIT graduates and current students enjoyed very rewarding internships at the bank last summer.

The internships and permanent positions will be in the bank’s international divisions which are involved in every branch of banking including corporate and public finance, international underwriting, and sales and trading in all its aspects (e.g. program trading, financial derivatives, interest-rate swaps, arbitrage, etc.). Like leading Wall Street firms the bank is looking for candidates with technical backgrounds as well as backgrounds in economics, business, etc. The bank has an interest in mathematical modeling and new computer-based methodologies. One of last summer’s interns from MIT was in Course 2, the other in 6-3.

The summer internships will run from June 7 to July 30, 1993. Interns will have free accommodation in apartments provided by the bank, will have their return air fare provided, and will receive (roughly $1,400 at today’s exchange rate) for tax-free allowance of DM 2,200 of pocket expenses. This should be enough to pay for weekend expenses and some travel in Europe afterwards.

Students interested in an internship, (who need not have more than a smattering of German but should be willing to learn), should apply through the Careers Office, Room 12-170. The Careers Office will collect all the applications from MIT and forward them to Germany. The bank asks for a resume, a cover letter, and a transcript. The letter should be addressed to Mr. Max B. Dugge, Senior Manager, Recruiting, Dresdner Bank AG, Jurgen-Ponto-

Platz 1, 6000 Frankfurt am Main 11, Germany. The bank will pick the candidates it wishes to interview and hold interviews at MIT, probably on February 10. It will make offers to successful candidates the same day, and will ask for a yes or no right then, if possible.

Candidates for permanent positions, who should have a reasonable command of German, should write directly to Mr. Dugge. There is no fixed deadline. Appointees will receive a regular German banker’s salary.

Additional information is available at the Careers Office, Room 12-170.
