change, about $959 and dumped it into his jar at one time," Spitznagel explained.

An MIT faculty member can become a Big Screw candidate in one of two ways. The person may approach the Big Screw chairperson and ask to be a candidate, or students and other faculty members can deposit $10 in the person's name to make him a write-in candidate. The nominated candidate can be disassociated from the contest if he or she does not wish to participate. In that case, APO will not accept money in that person's name.

"This year, we went to a couple professors who we knew had senses of humor and asked them if they wanted to run," Spitznagel said.

Once a faculty member becomes an official candidate, he must choose a charity. If he wins, all the money collected by the contest will be donated to that charity.

AIDS Action provides a variety of services to people in the community who are living with HIV. They provide visits, meals, and housing assistance to people with AIDS, and run a hotline for the community," Levitt said.

The screw may be presented to Levitt at the Senior House Steer Roast, held the first weekend in May. Levitt's name will be added to the list of previous winners engraved on the screw's end.
