Unlike War and Peace, this revolution will fit in your pocket.

The Revolutionary Newton MessagePad.

The Apple* Newton* MessagePad communications assistant weighs less than a pound, yet it can turn the chaos and confusion of almost anyone’s life—especially a college student’s—into order and reason. And between that fifteen-hundred-page book on the Russian revolution you have to finish by Friday, the lab report that’s due first thing in the morning, and the statistics model that’s already late, you could probably use a little order and reason.

For starters, every Newton MessagePad has a built-in address book, a to-do list, and a calendar—all of which work together to make sure you’re in the right place at the right time. It even has an alarm that will remind you to do things like call your mom on her birthday.

The Newton MessagePad lets you send a fax or receive a page. You can also subscribe to NewtonMail* and exchange electronic mail with other NewtonMail subscribers, as well as with users of popular electronic services, such as the Internet and CompuServe.
