Death and the Maiden New Repertory Theatre, 54 Lincoln St., Newton Highlands (located one block from the Newton High School, on the Green Line stop on the Green Line "D" River- side train). A political and psychological thriller, about a woman trying to escape the atrocities of her past, that challenges beliefs about justice and responsibility. Created by the department for the successful Americas Project. Application includes historic photos, models, and artifacts documenting the invention and use of the strobe light by the late Harold E. Edgerton ScD '27. Matched pairs of images offer a comparison of photographs of corals and anemones by Charles H. Mazel SM '76, a research engineer with the department for the successful Americas Project. Information: 253-4444. Tues.-Fri. 9-5, Sat.-Sun. 1-5. Free to members of the MIT community, students, and children under 12. For all others there is a requested donation of $2. Information: 253-7854.

Dance

The Arts

Barnes and Noble Booksellers Fifth Floor, 77 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge. Free form improvisational show, at which the audience decides the outcome. Presented by the U.S. Improvisational Theatre League. Admission: $10, $5 for MIT students. Information: 864-1344.

Lectures

Exhibits

MfT Museum, 265 Massachusetts Ave.: Holography: Artists and Inventors--The Museum of Holography Moves to MIT.