Croatian Troops Battle Rebel Serbs

The president also announced that he was sending up to 3,000 Croa tian troops to battle Serb rebels in northwestern Bosnia. The Serbs have been fighting for control of the area near the Bosni an capital, Sarajevo, and have been accused of using heavy ar ctilery and tank fire.

Key Lawmaker Retreats from GOP 'Contract on Welfare Reform

By Jay-struck, the neighboring country of Serbia, has also been fighting for control of the area near Sarajevo. The Serbs have been accused of using heavy artillery and tank fire.

Clinton Proposes Adding $25B to Defense Spending

A

President Clinton, seeking to blunt a Republican attack over the administration's record on the war in the former Yugoslavia, in stated that he was sending up to 3,000 Croatian troops to battle Serb rebels in northwestern Bosnia. The Serbs have been fighting for control of the area near the Bosnian capital, Sarajevo, and have been accused of using heavy artillery and tank fire.

Key Lawmaker Retreats from GOP 'Contract on Welfare Reform

By Jay

A Republican lawmaker whose panel will draft the House version of welfare reform expressed deep reservations Thursday about denying food stamps to some recipients.

"I am a central element of the GOP's "Contract with America."

The unreported retreat from a key contract provision suggests the new administration will struggle to implement the aggressive legis-latively promoted by incoming House Speaker Dennis Hastert.

Rep. Clay Shaw (R-Fla.) who chairs the House subcommittee with jurisdiction over welfare reform, said he cannot support Gin-

r ings in the works for months, a bill that would modernize the country's defense capabilities. The bill is expected to pass this week, and Clinton needs the money to make good on his promise to spend more on military expenditures.

The president also announced that he was sending up to 3,000 Croatian troops to battle Serb rebels in northwestern Bosnia. The Serbs have been fighting for control of the area near the Bosnian capital, Sarajevo, and have been accused of using heavy arctilery and tank fire.

Key Lawmaker Retreats from GOP 'Contract on Welfare Reform

By Jay

A Republican lawmaker whose panel will draft the House version
of welfare reform expressed deep reservations Thursday about denying food stamps to some recipients.

"I am a central element of the
GOP's "Contract with America."

The unreported retreat from a key contract provision suggests the
new administration will struggle to implement the aggressive legis-latively promoted by incoming House Speaker Dennis Hastert.

Rep. Clay Shaw (R-Fla.) who chairs the House subcommittee with jurisdiction over welfare reform, said he cannot support Gin-

r

ings in the works for months, a bill that would modernize the country's defense capabilities. The bill is expected to pass this week, and Clinton needs the money to make good on his promise
to spend more on military expenditures.

The president also announced that he was sending up to 3,000 Croatian troops to battle Serb rebels in northwestern Bosnia. The Serbs have been fighting for control of the area near the Bosnian capital, Sarajevo, and have been accused of using heavy arctilery and tank fire.

Key Lawmaker Retreats from GOP 'Contract on Welfare Reform

By Jay

A Republican lawmaker whose panel will draft the House version
of welfare reform expressed deep reservations Thursday about denying food stamps to some recipients.

"I am a central element of the
GOP's "Contract with America."

The unreported retreat from a key contract provision suggests the
new administration will struggle to implement the aggressive legis-latively promoted by incoming House Speaker Dennis Hastert.

Rep. Clay Shaw (R-Fla.) who chairs the House subcommittee with jurisdiction over welfare reform, said he cannot support Gin-

r

ings in the works for months, a bill that would modernize the country's defense capabilities. The bill is expected to pass this week, and Clinton needs the money to make good on his promise
to spend more on military expenditures.

The president also announced that he was sending up to 3,000 Croatian troops to battle Serb rebels in northwestern Bosnia. The Serbs have been fighting for control of the area near the Bosnian capital, Sarajevo, and have been accused of using heavy arctilery and tank fire.

Key Lawmaker Retreats from GOP 'Contract on Welfare Reform

By Jay

A Republican lawmaker whose panel will draft the House version
of welfare reform expressed deep reservations Thursday about denying food stamps to some recipients.

"I am a central element of the
GOP's "Contract with America."

The unreported retreat from a key contract provision suggests the
new administration will struggle to implement the aggressive legis-latively promoted by incoming House Speaker Dennis Hastert.

Rep. Clay Shaw (R-Fla.) who chairs the House subcommittee with jurisdiction over welfare reform, said he cannot support Gin-

r

ings in the works for months, a bill that would modernize the country's defense capabilities. The bill is expected to pass this week, and Clinton needs the money to make good on his promise
to spend more on military expenditures.

The president also announced that he was sending up to 3,000 Croatian troops to battle Serb rebels in northwestern Bosnia. The Serbs have been fighting for control of the area near the Bosnian capital, Sarajevo, and have been accused of using heavy arctilery and tank fire.

Key Lawmaker Retreats from GOP 'Contract on Welfare Reform

By Jay

A Republican lawmaker whose panel will draft the House version
of welfare reform expressed deep reservations Thursday about denying food stamps to some recipients.

"I am a central element of the
GOP's "Contract with America."

The unreported retreat from a key contract provision suggests the
new administration will struggle to implement the aggressive legis-latively promoted by incoming House Speaker Dennis Hastert.

Rep. Clay Shaw (R-Fla.) who chairs the House subcommittee with jurisdiction over welfare reform, said he cannot support Gin-

r

ings in the works for months, a bill that would modernize the country's defense capabilities. The bill is expected to pass this week, and Clinton needs the money to make good on his promise
to spend more on military expenditures.

The president also announced that he was sending up to 3,000 Croatian troops to battle Serb rebels in northwestern Bosnia. The Serbs have been fighting for control of the area near the Bosnian capital, Sarajevo, and have been accused of using heavy arctilery and tank fire.

Key Lawmaker Retreats from GOP 'Contract on Welfare Reform

By Jay

A Republican lawmaker whose panel will draft the House version
of welfare reform expressed deep reservations Thursday about denying food stamps to some recipients.

"I am a central element of the
GOP's "Contract with America."

The unreported retreat from a key contract provision suggests the
new administration will struggle to implement the aggressive legis-latively promoted by incoming House Speaker Dennis Hastert.

Rep. Clay Shaw (R-Fla.) who chairs the House subcommittee with jurisdiction over welfare reform, said he cannot support Gin-

r

ings in the works for months, a bill that would modernize the country's defense capabilities. The bill is expected to pass this week, and Clinton needs the money to make good on his promise
to spend more on military expenditures.

The president also announced that he was sending up to 3,000 Croatian troops to battle Serb rebels in northwestern Bosnia. The Serbs have been fighting for control of the area near the Bosnian capital, Sarajevo, and have been accused of using heavy arctilery and tank fire.

Key Lawmaker Retreats from GOP 'Contract on Welfare Reform

By Jay