Hollis St. Theatre.

Maxine Elliott returns to the Hollis Street Theatre tonight in the Clyde Fitch Comedy, "Her Own Way." Miss Elliott's success in the same play at the Hollis last year is well remembered and the return of such a popular favorite is sure to attract a series of representative audiences. Miss Elliot also comes with the prestige of New York favor, and the record of having scored the most unique theatrical run ever known in New York, having appeared at four different New York theaters in succession without leaving Broadway.

Colonial Theatre.

So many laudatory rumors have reached Boston from other cities of Miss Eleanor Robson's wonderful impersonation of the little slavey heroine in Israel Zangwill's "Merely Mary Ann," that there were fears in some quarters that expectations had been raised too high. Her performance last Monday night at the Colonial Theatre completely dispelled all such fears.

OPEN FROM 5 A.M. TO 7 P.M.

Charles Hawtrey will be at the Park in his uniquely attractive and amusing comedy, "A Message from Mars" Mr. Hawtrey brings his London company, which numbers thirty, and the same beautiful and novel scenic setting, with all its startling mechanical and electrical effects that were so much admired at the first presentation.

COLLEGE NOTES.

A short time ago, a large Southern University underwent the experience of having every one of its students cut all exercises for a day. The cause of this disturbance was a heavy snow fall, the first one for almost ten years. The students robbed the dining halls of their tables, borrowed soap boxes, bath tubs, and rocking chairs, and proceeded to participate in winter sport.

The Faculty of the University of Texas has forbidden Greek letter fraternities to begin their pledging until November 1.

Could You Go to the Klondike?

I WISH to communicate with young men that could accompany me next summer to the Klondike; I spent last summer there and own valuable interests; I can offer the opportunity of a lifetime to the right young men; they must furnish best of references, be physically robust and not afraid of labor, and have some money to invest. Address HIRAM VROOMAN, 5 Park Square.
