The opening of the track athletic season has made it evident that there is among the two lower classes a decided lack of enthusiasm, for our only Varsity Team. A few Sophomores and Freshmen have turned out and are doing creditable work, but the proportion of lower classmen who are training is exceptionally small. In fact many of the upper classmen are now working more than members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes combined, a previous unheard of state of affairs. The lower classes are all the more at fault, for they have by their interest in class contests shown beyond question that they possess plenty of capable material. There is yet time for 1907 and 1908 to show that each can do its share toward supporting a Track Team.
