Tremont Theatre.

Mrs. Fiske and the Manhattan Company begin this evening at the Tremont Theatre a three weeks engagement in C. M. S. McLellan's drama, "Leah Kleschna." No dramatic offering of the season equals in importance the appearance of this distinguished actress in the most popular play of her career. It is Mrs. Fiske's first appearance in Boston in three years. She and the company come here after acting this play for five months at their New York theatre, the Manhattan. "Leah Kleschna" is one of the most successful dramas the American stage has known. It is modern, full of action and incident, and absorbing in story.

Castle Square Theatre.

This evening the first Clyde Fitch production of the season will be made at the Castle Square Theatre.
The play selected is "The Climbers," one of the most brilliant of Mr.
Fitch's satirical comedies of modern society. It portrays life exactly as it is lived among the ambitious Americans who have acquired wealth without social position, and it shows clearly their frantic struggles to win a place among the "four hundred."
"The Climbers" was first played some years ago by Amelia Bingham and a notable supporting company, and it has always received the approval and enthusiasm of discriminating playgoers. Its scenes mingle both drama and comedy, the serious side of the play being enlivened by numerous comic episodes devised and written in Mr. Fitch's most lively and humorous manner.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS TO MEET.

The Boston branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will hold a regular meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in 6 Lowell. Papers will be read and discussed on "The National Bureau of Standards," by E. B. Rosa and S. W. Stratten; and on "A Heating Laboratory in Practical Operation," by Clayton H.
Sharp. These papers have already been read before the New York branch of the Institute.
