Mrs. Fiske and the Manhattan Company in "Leah Kleschna" have begun at the Tremont Theatre, what promises to be the most brilliant of the many engagements Mrs. Fiske has played there. "Leah Kleschna" appeals to every class of theatregoer. The acting has received even higher praise than the play. Mrs. Fiske's acting in the title role rivals her Tess and Becky Sharp. She gives a superb character study, that calls into play all the subtlety and emotional power that makes her art so great. The Manhattan Company, directed by Mrs. Fiske, is unquestionably the best dramatic organization that Boston has seen in this generation. Not a role but what is admirably played; the artistic finish of the entire performance is unapproached.

Castle Square Theatre.

Pleasant memories of "Lady Windermere's Fan" survive among those playgoers who saw this notable comedy by Oscar Wilde upon its original production in Boston a dozen years ago. Its revival at the Castle Square next week will be notable, for although Oscar Wilde's work stands forth brilliantly among the best of modern English plays, it is rarely presented either by stock or travelling companies. "Lady Windermere's Fan" will be staged at the Castle Square under the direction of William C. Masson, and the cast of characters will include John Craig, Lillian Kemble, and all the other leading members of the stock company. It will be followed during the week of December 18 by a special revival of Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer."
