Tremont Theatre.

Mrs. Fiske and the Manhattan Company have made a great success in "Leah Kleschna" at the Tremont Theatre, Boston, and are crowding that playhouse at every performance. All the reviewers speak in the highest terms of the play, and agree that no better acting than Mrs. Fiske and her associates offer has been seen in many years. The story of "Leah Kleschna" is wonderfully appealing and intense. Mrs. Fiske creates a type that probably no other actress could duplicate. The greatness of her art was never better demonstrated. Her principal associates, John Mason, George Arliss, Frederic de Belleville and William B. Mack, all act superbly, and the minor roles are admirably played. The engagement will continue for one week longer. There is only one matinee a week—on Saturday. The performance is one that no playgoer should miss.

Castle Square Theatre.

The coming week at the Castle Square Theatre will be made notable by a revival of "She Stoops to Conquer." It will form the second of the five classic productions to be made during the present season, and in scenery, costume and acting it will be as complete as modern stage art can make it. The scenery will be prepared from designs by Frank Chouteau Brown, and it will reproduce accurately the quaintness of the Eighteenth Century life in which its events take place. Few comedies excel "She Stoops to Conquer," and it shares with "The Rivals," and one or two other plays, the honor of having kept the stage for nearly a century and a half since its opening performances. All its leading characters, Tony Lumpkin, Mr. and Mrs. Harcastle, Hastings and Miss Neville are enjoyable people to greet across the footlights and their first appearance at the Castle Square will undoubtedly be the occasion of crowded houses at every afternoon and evening performance.

SPORTSMEN'S SHOW.

The Sportsmen's Show, which the New England Forest, Fish and Game Association will give in Mechanics' Building, beginning Christmas Day and extending over a period of two weeks, bids fair to outshine any previous efforts in this line. In addition to the exhibits, filling two great spacious halls, basements, and balconies, and including the very valuable loan exhibits sent by the United States Government, a special feature will be made this season of Biograph Hunt Pictures taken especially for this Sportsmen's Show, and illustrated talks by such well known authorities as Ernest Seton Thompson, Homer Davenport, Howard W. Du Bois and Frank Chapman.
