GEORGE R. HOWARD

Put into partial operation last year and reported on recently as an advisable permanent change, the system of having students go out in small squads to various mines is probably to be adopted at Columbia.
The university makes all the arrangements with the mining companies and assigns the students according to their specialties, and the requirement for credit in the work is the presentation of a satisfactory notebook by the student. The usual resident summer school was reduced from a large attendance to one of twenty-one students last year by the operation of this plan.

Tutoring for conditions in all entrance subjects except Science.
