GREAT ENTHUSIASM MARKS.

back to second, soon recovering his former coveted base by a steal. He then came home on a passed ball.

The third inning opened with Brown narrowly missing reaching first. Chandler again showed his proficiency in fanning the air. Williams knocked a long ball.

At this point the game was interrupted by a cake and pie riot on the track and during the disturbance Williams reached home in some way or other. Bolenbacher fled to Dempwolf.

And so the game went on, stopping at times to allow the players to make trips in the direction of third base, which point seemed to be the most popular spot on the field. At the end of two hours and three quarters the game reached its end. It was an occasion never to be forgotten in architectural history.

The department offered another attraction in the athletic line when some of the members of the course drew up on the line for a 440 yard run. Most of the contestants dropped by the wayside and only two crossed the line. Atherton was the winner and Gibbs came second. No time was taken.

The line up was:

Williams c. Rebori. (Glazier)
Van Valkenburgh ss. Bounetheau
