

CREW LOSES BY A SMALL MARGIN

SIX ATHLETES LEAVE FOR I.C.A.A.A. MEET

Technology's Representatives Arrive in Philadelphia Today For Trials—Will Hold Finals To-morrow

DANDROW LIKELY WINNER

Technology's athletes who are to compete in the I. C. A. A. A. annual track meet left here last night and arrive in Philadelphia today to take part in the preliminaries. Finals will be run tomorrow. Those in the party are Coach Frank Kanaly, Ted Bossert, Billy MacMahon, Jack Poole, Jim Downey, George Dandrow and Fred Raymond. Next year's manager, L. R. Gignilliat '22 will handle the business end of the trip.

Advance dope from many dependable sources indicates that the result of the meet this year will be closer than many of the other classics have been in the past.

Dope is Varied

Cornell has been almost a consistent winner of the meet in the past but this year the Ithacans have not shown up as well as usual and it is doubtful whether they will win. The likely contenders are Penn, Princeton, Yale and Dartmouth. Various dual meets through the season indicate that these four will probably be up at the front when the meet is over.

Princeton and Yale have beaten Harvard badly and Dartmouth is placed among the leaders because of its easy win in the triangular meet over Harvard and Cornell early in the year. Cornell did not have its full strength at the time and will undoubtedly do better tomorrow but the Red and White team is not in the class with others. Penn's set of athletes is probably the best balanced aggregation on the cinders.

Dandrow's Chances Excellent

Experts have slighted Technology's chances to do anything of account and although the Cardinal and Gray athletes can not get first, second or third place, several good men have been sent to Philadelphia.

George Dandrow has an excellent chance to win the hammer throw. On Wednesday he threw the weight 153 feet seven times in ten attempts and once hove the iron 162 feet. He has not been defeated this year in the event and his performance Wednesday is better than that of Dartmouth, who is regarded as among the best. Fred Raymond is slated to enter this event and has a chance for a place.

Ted Bossert has a fair chance in the century. He has turned in times of 10.15 seconds consistently and has occasionally done 10 flat. The race should be won at 10 flat in Philly and Bossert will have to be on his toes to cop a place. Scholz of Missouri is probably the best man entered.

2-Mile and Hurdles Attractions

Bossert will probably run in the quarter along with Jack Poole and Jim Downey. Poole won his heat in the New England at 22 seconds and if he can repeat tomorrow will get a first or second place. Downey pulled a big surprise in the New England when he sailed in second behind Poole. His chances are fair.

The two-mile is one of the attractions of the meet. Billy MacMahon, Gordon Nightingale of New Hampshire, and his team-mate Cecil Leath, together with Watson and Simmons of Syracuse, Brown of Williams and Connelly of Georgetown make up one of the best fields entered. If all these men start it is hard to pick a winner. Nightingale is rated as slightly better than the others but he is by no means sure of winning.

Another attraction is the hurdle race. Earl Thompson, joint-holder of the world's record at 45-yards over the barriers, Watt of Cornell, who broke the world's record for 440 yards at the Penn carnival, and Erdman of Princeton should live things up.

NEW WALKER MEMORIAL COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Ratification by the Institute Committee last night made the following men members of the Walker Memorial Committee for next year: W. G. Loesch '21 (chairman), H. M. Shirey '22, A. J. Browning '22, and P. S. Wilder '23. The first meeting of the new committee will be at 4 o'clock today in the office of the committee in Walker Memorial. At this time the new committee will officially take charge.

WINNERS OF CABOT MEDALS ARE CHOSEN

The men winning the Cabot medal this year have been announced. This medal is given to those freshmen who show the greatest physical development during the year. Dean Burton will award this year's medals to S. A. Guerrieri, W. B. Greenough, Jr., H. J. Verner, S. R. Evans, and J. D. Cochrane, Jr., at the next Field Day dinner. Those men deserving honorable mention are: W. L. Merzbach, J. B. Nason, Allen Isaacson, E. C. Palmer, and W. E. Appleton. A faculty committee consisting of Dean Burton, Professors F. H. Bailey, S. A. Breed and F. E. Armstrong, and Frank Kanaly, instructor in physical training, were the judges in the contest.

1923 WINS AGAIN

Freshman Tennis Team Defeats Lynn on Home Courts

Technology's freshman tennis team whitewashed the Lynn English High School combination on the Tech courts Wednesday afternoon, taking three singles and two doubles matches from the visitors. All the Cardinal and Gray victories were in straight sets, and the yearlings displayed their superiority throughout.

The closest match of the day was played between Beattie, of the Institute, and Brown of Lynn. Beattie won the first set handily at 6-3, but at the beginning of the second frame ran into the wire screening, injuring his ankle. This slowed up his play somewhat, but he managed to take the set by a score of 8-6.

The freshman team was slated to oppose the Harvard first-year men on the courts yesterday, but the match was canceled because the Crimson youngsters were unable to appear. Tomorrow the Institute freshmen travel to Newport, where they will play the St. George School team. The last match of the season will be held on Monday, with Exeter Academy on the other end of the bill.

PLAN NEW POLICIES FOR CORPORATION XV

Officers for Next Year Meet to Adopt More Progressive Methods—Want 100 Percent Membership

ISSUE STOCK FOR RECEIPT

Corporation XV will start next year with a new system of activities as the newly elected officers met to discuss means of adopting more progressive measures than have been previously employed. Plans for the coming year were discussed and committees appointed to supervise the work of the organization.

L. W. Conant '21, president, asked the officers to attend the informal meeting as nothing official could be done so late in the year. The other members of the official staff present were J. W. Kendall '21, treasurer; W. W. Russell, secretary; Senior directors of the executive committee, G. W. Pollock and A. W. Norton, and Junior directors of the executive committee, T. W. Alder and D. D. Spoor.

Will Issue Stock

Conant spoke of the past policies of the organization and of the inadequate relation of the past to the present status of the corporation. He emphasized the fact that a more progressive course of meetings and gatherings as well as smokers must be adopted if the organization is to remain in the competition with the professional societies. Norton was appointed to take charge of the social functions. Pollock is in direct supervision of the trips and securing speakers. Kendall is to aid in the financial department and the publicity of the corporation in the hands of Alder.

A special effort will be made to get 100 percent membership from all three options of Course XV in Engineering Administration. Instead of the usual method of giving each man as he joins a stub from the receipt book of the Institute committee, each man will be issued shares of stock in the corporation. The dues will be the usual 50 cents per term.

ing the first Harvard boat a nip and tuck race.

Ross Was on Freshman Crew

The Harvard crew gained a small lead of three strokes which it maintained until the end. The Cardinal and Gray boat showed no signs of weakening and it was not till the end that the winner could be picked, so close was the race. After the half mile the Harvard third crew was no longer a contender for first place. The time for the race was 7 min. 14 3-5 seconds which is faster than that made in the recent Harvard-Princeton race for the mile and a half.

The Harvard crew has had the benefit of training since last fall, and besides was rowing with brand new equipment. A feature of the race was the rowing of G. N. Ross '23 at number four. Captain I. D. Jakobson '21 was unable to row yesterday because of the sudden death of his mother on the evening preceding the race. Ross has been rowing on the freshman crew.

Freshmen Race

This afternoon the freshman crew will try to score a win over the Harvard freshman eight on the Charles at 6 o'clock. The local yearlings have a strong aggregation and should make a very good showing against the Crimson. The course for this race will be one mile, starting at Harvard Bridge and extending to the Cottage Farm viaduct.

CHOOSE MANAGER

L. R. Gignilliat '22 Picked to Run Track Team

L. R. Gignilliat '22, of Culver, Indiana, has been chosen as track manager for next year's team. He was recommended for the position by the M. I. T. A. A. and his appointment is confirmed by the Alumni Advisory Council on Athletics.

Outgoing Manager C. H. Talcott '21 has made a statement to the effect that the competition this year has been very close. It was necessary to fall back on rigid rules in order to find the most capable contestant.

Gignilliat was not at the Institute last year but has been closely connected with athletics this season.

TENNIS TEAM COMPETES IN NATIONAL INTER-COLLEGIATES

Will Close Successful Season with Games at Philadelphia

The varsity tennis team, consisting of Capt. Brookman, Cauldwell, McWane, and Barron, will compete in the National Inter-collegiate at Merion, Philadelphia, for the first time in the Institute's history, on June 28. The doubles team was just nosed out of the Eastern Inter-collegiate by the Williams pair, but they ought to come back for a win according to Manager Greenblatt, if the burst of speed the team has been showing in their late victories lasts until the 28th.

Tomorrow the same team will face the Worcester Polytechnic white flannels at Worcester. They should have no trouble in adding another notch to the row on their racquets already. Joseph Greenblatt '22, has been re-elected to the managerial position. The varsity captain for next year has not yet been chosen. C. H. Hildreth '23, will become an assistant manager; one other is to be picked by competition next year.

DORM TENNIS IS SLOW

On account of the bad weather of the last week, the dormitory tennis tournament has not progressed very rapidly. However, the first rounds have been played off and the manager thinks that the finals will be held by the end of next week. The favorite in the singles is A. P. Wilkes, his strongest opponent, A. W. Whelan '22, having been eliminated in his second round.

WASHINGTON ALUMNI MEET

The Washington, D. C., Alumni Association held a smoker in the auditorium of the Red Cross Building of that city last night. Starr Truscott '07, aeronautical engineer of the Navy Department, gave a lecture on "Lighter than Air Machines", which was illustrated with motion pictures. Mr. Henry A. Moss '93, member of the Corporation of the Institute, also spoke. James A. Tobey '15 was chairman of the committee on arrangements.
