GOLF CRIMSON TODAY

Meet Harvard and Dartmouth Over Week-End

The golf team meets Harvard this afternoon at Brae Burn. The match starts at 2 o'clock; no admission will be charged. The team plays Dartmouth tomorrow.

The match will be between six-man teams. The Institute aggregation will be composed of the same men who won the match from Brown last Saturday; J. W. Ballard 1, H. Schley 2, F. G. Clement 3, Captain A. L. Johnson 4, J. W. Ballard 5, and James Duane 6.

The game with Dartmouth will be a morning and afternoon affair and will be played over the Woodland Country Club course.

Both the Crimson and the Green aggregation are strong ones and the two matches should try the mettle of the golfing Engineers.

LOSES TO HARVARD

Tennis Team Defeated 4-2—Carver Beats Fenno

Harvard's tennis team showed the Technology men the low end of the scoring at Longwood courts Tuesday afternoon by winning four out of the six matches. The playing was fairly close in some of the lost matches, however, especially in the first doubles, in which Broockmann and Carver lost a third set to Fenno and de Turenne.

In the singles Broockmann won from Fenno after some terrific play, while Carver took his match from de Turenne with difficulty, each point being fought for by the men as though the match depended on it.

The standing of the colleges in the race for the eight point cup, is as follows: Amherst, 6½; Williams, 5½; Technology, 4½; Wesleyan, 2½; Dartmouth, 1½; Trinity, 1½; Bates, ½.

N. E. INTERCOLLEGIATES WILL OPEN HERE TODAY

the winner's of last year's meet are still at the Institute. Ted Bossert holds the title for the 100 yard dash, while Johnny Poole was winner of the 220. Both these men are entered again this year. Ted Spitz, who won both the dashes in the Dartmouth meet will wear the Cardinal and Gray in both these events. Jim Downey took second in the 220 last year and will run again this year. With these men all running this year, Coach Kanaly looks for several points here.

Amherst will enter Clark in the 100. He is reputed to have done some wonderful travelling this year and he will bear close watching. Nolan will run for Boston College, while Brown will send Williams and Carter. MacWhorter of Williams has done the distance in 10 seconds. Practically the same men are entered as headliners in the 220 event also.

Dandrow Is After the Hammer

George Dandrow, Technology's Olympic star, is the most probable winner of the hammer throw. He has no particularly strong men against him and should find little trouble in collecting a first.

According to all the dope, the firsts will be pretty well sprinkled among a number of colleges and it will be the seconds, thirds, and fourths that will win the meet. Boston College has a fair bid for three or four firsts but outside of this, things are well scattered. Coach Frank Kanaly places his hopes for a victory on collecting a group of seconds and thirds coupled with a first in the hammer throw and possibly two firsts in the dashes.

OARSMEN ROW HARVARD IN LAST REGATTA OF SEASON

The Junior Varsity shows tallies much the same as the Varsity's; it defeated Norton and lost by a length and a quarter to Yale's best crew over the one and a half mile distance.

Harvard has rowed in but one regatta this year, namely that in which she placed a poor third, trailing both Princeton and Navy.

Following the most recent change in the seating which has shifted Sayre from 4 to 2 and Morse from 2 to stroke in order to take the place of Molinar who will row at 6. Scholtz has replaced Woodruff at 5.

Tomorrow the crew will be boated as follows: Bow, Evans; 2, Sayre; 3, Nowell; 4, Valentine; 5, Sholtz; 6, Molinar; 7, McCurdy; stroke, Morse; cox, Davidson. The men will be guests of the Harvard management at the game with Princeton, which starts at 2:30.

Have Shifted Crew Order

Since then, Coach Bill Haines has made numerous shifts in their boat, recently adopting an innovation in Harvard rowing by having his stroke a starboard oarsman. This method is used by Cornell. The men who will probably row against the Institute are: Bow, Morgan; 2, Appleton; 3, Olmstead; 4, Ladd; 5, Capt. McCagg; 6, Terry; 7, Kane; stroke, Damon; cox, Peirson.

Cubs Meet Groton

The freshman eight goes to Groton Saturday, for last race this spring. Against Harvard freshmen on Wednesday, they rowed a strong race for the first half-mile, but weakened toward the end, Harvard winning by a comfortable margin. The men will row in the following order: Bow, Davis; 2, Rousseau; 3, Ames; 4, Greatwood; 5, Eaton; 6, Thomas; 7, Prouty; Stroke, Dunlaevy; cox, Reid.
